

NIGHT EDITION FIGHT IS ON HOUSE DESTROYED

HON. JAMES B. CASEY
For the Democratic Nomination for Will Withdraw From Contest If
He Gets No Lowell Delegates
Governor of New York

Asks Recount in Wards One, Four and Five on Ground of Irregularity as Indicated by the Great Number of Blanks

Hon. James B. Casey this morning issued the following statement of his position in the congressional contest. He thinks there was some irregularity in the count in wards one, four and five, and asks a recount of these wards. If this does not give him any Lowell delegates he will make no contest in the convention. His statement follows:

"Inasmuch, however, as I have failed to carry any delegates in Lowell, I have no desire to precipitate a contest in the convention, by seeking to secure a majority of the pledged delegates from the towns in order to win the nomination.

"Therefore, my opponent is welcome to the nomination in the convention without any further contest on my part, except in this event: I have decided to petition for a recount of the votes in Wards One, Four, and Five, as there appears to be an irregularity in the number of blanks recorded. It may be that the result will not be materially changed, but if there is a change, and I secure any delegates from Lowell I will contest for the nomination in the convention.

FELL FROM ROOF

Woman Perhaps Fatally Injured
in Perry's Court

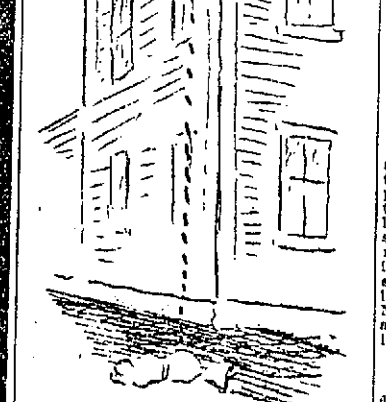

Mrs. Jennie Coates, aged about 40 years, fell from the roof of a building in Perry's court, off Middlesex street, late last night and suffered a fracture of the right shoulder, a dislocation of the left hip, a bad scalp wound and numerous bruises about the body. It is also feared that she has suffered internal injuries.

At the time the woman was removed in the ambulance to the hospital she claimed that she had been thrown through a window but an investigation by the police resulted in their learning that the statement was untrue.

A woman who lives in the court informed the officers who were sent to investigate the case that she saw Mrs. Coates walking about the flat roof of a two-story building. She was given to understand that the woman was searching for a cat which had been lost.

The woman was found lying in a small alley leading off the court, her groans attracting the attention of people who happened to be passing. They removed her to a nearby store and telephoned for the ambulance.

She was in a dazed condition and intimated that she had been thrown from a window, but her story was so disconnected that the police concluded she was not quite rational at the time. The police, however, investigated the matter and are satisfied that the woman was not at fault.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 29.—With 223 of the 443 votes under his control, Charles E. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, was in a position to dominate the democratic state convention here today. Upon Mr. Murphy's use of this power that came to him through the coalition of the delegates from New York, Kings, Queens, and Erie counties depends the composition of the ticket that will be placed in the field to oppose the candidates nominated yesterday by the republicans at Saratoga.

Thus far no up-state combination has developed strong enough to threaten the supremacy of the leaders from the two largest cities of the state.

The question was not one of the Tammany leader's power, however, but of his disposition to use it. While the supporters of Edward M. Shepard and the several up-state candidates acknowledged that the nomination of their men depended on Mr. Murphy's word they bore in mind his reiterated declaration that the up-state delegates would name the ticket. But few ventured to predict how broad an interpretation the Tammany leader would give this promise.

There were reports early in the day that the New York leaders had made up their minds that one of their own organization would make as strong a run as any of the outside candidates and that their confidence of a democratic victory this fall was so strong that they would conclude to nominate from their own bailiwick.

May Not Be Shepard

Mr. Murphy was said to be weighing Mr. Shepard's availability with increasing doubt. The Tammany leader was credited with the opinion that it would be difficult to convince voters that the Brookline attorney was the choice of any representative forces up-state and that if the democratic candidate this year was to run with the supposed handicap of a Tammany affiliation he might as well be an out and out Tammany man.

It was still a question in his mind, the report went, just how closely the voters would associate Shepard and Tammany.

To convince the New York leaders that there was a real demand for Mr. Shepard above the Bronx his friends were busy this morning obtaining the signatures of representative up-state delegates to a statement favoring his candidacy.

The last conference adjourned at 10 o'clock last night with the question of candidates unsettled. Efforts to induce Congressman James Havens to withdraw failed, the alternative of a seat on the supreme court bench, it was said, having failed to prove sufficiently attractive to the Monroe county congressman.

Thomas Osborne of Auburn had steadfastly refused to desert Mr. Shepard, in whose favor alone he is willing to accept second place.

Mr. Havens' friends declared that much of the anti-Shepard talk that was coming from Tammany men was disingenuous and for the purpose of creating the impression that Shepard was not Tammany's candidate, but Havens' managers claimed something over 150 delegates.

It was still anybody's race before the convention met this afternoon. The events scheduled for today were the temporary organization, the speech of Alton B. Parker, the temporary chairman and the appointment of committees. The first session will open at noon. The committee on credentials has but one contest to decide but it is a lively one. The faction of the Albany county democracy, headed by Robert Whalen, a young attorney, contests two districts in the county, at present controlled by State Committee man McCabe. The task of turning out a satisfactory platform appears to be giving Edward Shepard and his assistants considerable trouble. The democratic league and the progressive democracy have united in demanding a direct primaries plank broad enough to attract those who are not satisfied with the efforts of the republican convention as a corollary; others favor direct nominations, while a third group wants the party to push forward its denunciation of the "new nationalism" which will be interpreted to mean mainly antireligious, advocated by Theodore Roosevelt. Along with this will be a defense of the supreme court from Colonel Roosevelt's recent attacks.

A TAX DISPUTE Heard by County Commissioners Today

The county commissioners held a special meeting at the court house today for the purpose of hearing the case of Emma W. Adams of Chelmsford, who appeals from the decision of the assessors of Chelmsford relative to the valuation of her property.

The case was to have been heard a week ago but owing to the inclemency of the weather the county commissioners postponed it as a view of the property involved was deemed necessary. The commissioners made the view this morning and the hearing was held this afternoon.

SPECIAL MEETING Called at Chelmsford for Next Tuesday

The voters of the town of Chelmsford will hold a special town meeting Tuesday evening to reconsider the matter of building a school on the McNally lot in North Chelmsford at an expense of $17,500. The money was voted at a special town meeting held a few weeks ago but charges having been made that the vote was illegal, the selectmen believed that to make the selection absolutely fair and above criticism that another meeting should be held to take action one way or another.

In the meantime the selectmen appointed a special committee of three to investigate the charges of illegal voting and while the committee has not yet prepared a report it is said that they have found nothing to warrant the charges. In the event of the investigating committee reporting that the charges of illegal voting are without foundation it is probable that the voters will allow the vote of the previous meeting appropriating the money for the building on the McNally lot to stand.

MILES McLEOD IS PRONOUNCED A COMER BY CHOYNSKI

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Miles McLeod, the farmer boy from Albany, Mo., who aspires to wrest the heavyweight championship from Jack Johnson boxed two rounds with Joe Choynski yesterday. After the bout Choynski declared McLeod to be one of the most promising novices he ever boxed and said with two months' proper training McLeod would be able to give any of the heavyweights a stiff argument. According to Joe, Mac has a "left" which is phenomenal and as soon as he is taught how to use it he will develop into one of the best two-handed fighters in the game.

Burned to the Ground Early This Morning in North Billerica

A house just over the Chelmsford line in North Billerica was burned about 4:30 o'clock this morning with all its contents except the piano and a parlor suite.

It is known as the Blennerhasset house, the scene of a homicide some years ago when the owner, Mrs. Blennerhasset, shot a man who called at her door late in the night.

After the fire was discovered an effort was made to reach the Billerica fire department by telephone, but without avail. It was five o'clock before the fire department arrived and by that time the house was a smoldering heap of ruins.

The house was occupied by a Mrs. Hill with her father and a relative named Fitzgerald. The estimated loss is $4,000.

Russell Fox carried the insurance on the house owned by Mrs. Letitia Driscoll destroyed by fire in North Billerica this morning.

BOARD OF HEALTH

Replies to the Communication of the Water Board

Members Say They Acted in the Interests of the Health of the People—Front Street Matter is the Bone of Contention

The board of health and the water board are exchanging pleasanties. The board of health sent a letter to the water board requesting the water board to change the existing ordinance so that in case of the non-payment of water bills it would not be necessary to shut off the water. The controversy between the two boards was occasioned by the shutting off of the city water from tenement property in Front street.

It was alleged that the tenants after the city water was shut off used Merimack river water for domestic purposes. The letter addressed to the water board by the board of health was placed on file by the water board at a meeting held Tuesday night, and the board of health seems a bit "huffed" because the water board did not take more notice of the communication.

Drs. Martin and Huntress of the board of health met at the board's headquarters at city hall this morning and prepared the following statement for the press:

Sept. 29th, 1910.

The board of health this morning received the following communication from the water board in answer to a letter sent to it September 27th concerning the shutting off of water in some tenements in Front street:

"Office of the Water Board, Lowell, Mass.

Sept. 25th, 1910.

G. Forrest Martin, M. D., Chairman, Leonard Huntress, M. D., Lowell Board of Health, Gentlemen:

Yours of the 27th in relation to shutting off the city water from tenement property in Front street, and advising the water board to take action to change the ordinance, was duly received and presented to the water board at its meeting last evening, and ordered placed on file.

Yours truly,
 J. W. Crawford, Secretary."

The board of health also read the reports in The Sun and Courier-Citizen, of the meeting of the water board and the opinions of its members upon the subject, and desires to call attention to certain quotations from the same, presumably authentic. One member is quoted as saying, "I supposed that ours was an executive body. It never occurred to me that we had a finger in the legislative pie. It remained for the board of health to put us next."

Another member says: "The board of health probably doesn't know that the water board appeared before the legislature last spring and spoke in favor of having water taxes become a lien upon the property instead of shutting off the water as a means of collecting back taxes, but the legislature could not see it that way."

Now, with these opinions before us, how does the matter stand before the public? The board of health, acting, as it believed, and still does believe, in the interests of the health of the people of Lowell sent a communication to the water board calling attention to the matter, and the water board "ordered it placed on file."

The communication to the water board plainly reads "we quite understand that the water board was simply enforcing an existing ordinance, etc." The same communication just as plainly reads "we therefore request—that such action be taken by the water board as shall change this existing ordinance so that this charge can become a lien upon property like regular taxes, etc."

We learn with real pleasure that the water board has already made one move before the legislature towards establishing the custom which we so strongly recommended in our letter to it, and we trust that the present happenings may spur it on towards renewed efforts to bring about this change.

We sincerely hope that no cases of sickness may result from the Front street matter, but if such is the case, it will be good fortune only that prevents it. Of course, the information that the water was turned on because the tax was paid and not because the board of health protested in the matter has no bearing on the question. The board fully understands this and learned the fact early in the forenoon or it would have acted further. A careful reading of the correspondence will, we think, make it clear that the board of health made no attempt to advise the water board but "requested" them to use its influence to better conditions. We still hope that it will see fit to do something more than place the matter "on file."

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR UNION

SPRINGFIELD, Sept. 29.—The principal business remaining for the delegates to this, the final day of the biennial convention of the Massachusetts Christian Endeavor union, was the selection of a meeting place for the convention two years hence. It was expected that either Pittsburg or Brackton would be chosen.

A number of addresses were given in the course of the day, the speaker including President Mary Woolsey of Mount Holyoke college; Prof. Irving Wood of Smith college, Rev. Robert Hume of Ahmedgar, India, and Rev. Harry Fosdick of Montclair, N. J.

supervisors to whom it was referred with an adverse report, and the petitioner was given leave to withdraw. It was reported by the board of supervisors that the number of pupils would not justify the opening of a primary room. Several petitions were presented for transfers of pupils from the Washington school to the Highland school. It is claimed that on account of poor drainage and absence of sidewalks, the children get their feet wet and sit in school with wet feet. In some cases there were doctors' certificates stating that the children are delicate and not able to walk the greater distance to the Washington school. In these cases the requests for transfers were granted.

Immigration League

The committee gave a hearing to a representative of the North American Civic league for immigrants. The league is giving courses of lectures in various cities on American government. The lectures are for non-English speaking foreigners and the league wants to give a few courses here. The committee did not take any action in the matter.

On the recommendation of the committee on schoolhouses and hygiene the following matters were passed upon: Voted to recommend to the committee on lands and buildings of the city council that the Bartlett drinking fountain be installed in the public schoolhouses, to take the place of the common drinking cups. Voted, that towels and toilet paper be provided for five or six schools for one month, schools and material at the discretion of the chairman of the committee.

To Sell Unused Schoolhouses

Voted with reference to a communication from the joint committee on lands and buildings relative to the sale of unused schoolhouses: That full consent be given to the sale of other district schoolhouses, and of the Old Moody, provided the city can retain the right to use the houses for evening school. The "Old Moody" mentioned in the letter from the committee, is an annex to the Old Moody school. It is not now in use and may well be sold either with the main building or separately. Objection is made to the sale of the School street house, on the ground that it is practically certain that this house will soon again be used for school purposes.

Miss Ivah M. Connell was elected a grade teacher in the Bartlett school, in place of Miss Charlotte M. Munkland, resigned.

Manual Training

Morley D. Cameron was appointed a teacher of manual training in the high school. Leah A. DeMerritt was appointed a teacher of physical culture and education in the high school.

Charles E. Thornton was elected an additional janitor at the Bartlett school. Other janitors were elected as follows: High, Michael Lynch, William Mack, Benjamin Maguire, John Moran, William Liddle, Herbert Baker; Bartlett, William McGarr, Butler, Thomas Keegan, Colburn, Michael Pinnegan; Cheever street, George Peck; Edison, John Condon, Franklin, Joseph Provost; Green, Oscar Brown; Greenhalge, John Barrett; Mann and Art, John O'Connor and George Daly; Old Moody, David Cornack; Riverside, John Toy; Worthen street, John Manchester; Middlesex Village, Henry P. Driscoll. Additional helper at high school two evenings a week, John O'Connor.

The resignations of Miss Charlotte M. Munkland of the Bartlett school and Miss Mabel H. Hall, teacher of physical culture and education in the high school, were accepted.

Leave of absence for one year was granted to Miss Winifred C. Haggerty of the Pond street school, and for six months to Miss Mabel H. Hall of the training school. The leave of absence of Miss Alice B. Besse of the New Moody school was extended, and leave of absence was granted to Frederick Johnston of the supply department for two months, on account of poor health.

On recommendations of the committee on books and supplies it was voted that the principal of the evening drawing school be allowed to incur indebtedness not to exceed $100 for the purpose of supplying the school with things that are necessary.

The committee denied the request of the Knights of Columbus for the use of the high school annex hall for a banquet, on the ground that it would be establishing a bad precedent.

It was voted to authorize the committee on teachers to confer with the board of supervisors as to the advisability of advertising for candidates, and that the committee be given full power.

A petition asking that a primary room be opened in the Washington school, came back from the board of

Saved the Life of a Baby

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—Morris Gold, a four-year-old boy, living at 23 Causeway street, gave an alarm at a fire in that house, which probably saved the tenement from destruction yesterday afternoon and also saved the life of Anne Killeavan, an 18-months-old baby. Morris and Anne are cared for by Mrs. Lena Wolff of 23 Causeway street. Mrs. Wolff went to a store yesterday morning at 11.15 to purchase some goods for the dinner. She left Morris and Anne in charge of the house, and before going out she placed a kettle of water on the gas stove in order that it might be heated when she returned. Little Morris smelled smoke, looked up and saw the walls blazing. He picked the baby girl in his arms and took her out into the entry, but here his strength failed him and he was obliged to drop her on the floor. He then rushed down the stairs yelling. A passerby heard his cries and going up the stairs rescued Anne. He then gave the alarm of fire. The damage was slight.

VARNEY WHIST CLUB.

Last evening the junior members of the Varney Whist club entertained the seniors in a most delightfully pleasant manner having secured the exclusive use of the Vespey Club house. A very spirited contest on the alleys between the juniors and seniors at bowling was held and for the juniors the highest individual score was made by Willie Cahill of the juniors, and Miss Sally McLaughlin, was the highest of the ladies. The seniors' highest score was made by John J. Murray; for ladies, Mrs. E. F. Shutter and Mrs. E. K. A. Harting were a tie. Having rolled off the tie the honors went to Mrs. Harting, and she was the recipient of a

Enthusiasm of Irish League Convention Exceeds All Bounds

President Ryan Re-elected, With Sec'y O'Callaghan and Treasurer Fitzpatrick—Excursion to Niagara Falls Today

BUFFALO, Sept. 28.—Stirring scenes marked the closing session of the fifth biennial national convention of the United Irish League of America at convention hall last night. Such enthusiasm and open-handed generosity of the leaders declared, never before had marked a similar gathering. In less than an hour $151,920 was raised and assurance was given that if necessary more would be forthcoming to carry the fight for Ireland's freedom to a speedy and final victory.

A second and even more enthusiastic scene occurred just before the close of the session when Michael J. Ryan of Philadelphia consented to a second re-election to the presidency of the league. His consent was withheld until the last moment, and when it was finally given between 500 and 600 delegates jumped upon their seats and yelled as only Irishmen can yell.

The first surprise of the day came when the committee on resolutions reported through its chairman, Dr. P. J. Timmins of Boston, that it had been decided to increase the amount donated for the aid of the cause in Ireland to $150,000, $50,000 more than was pledged at the Boston convention two years ago.

The announcement was received with applause and the resolutions were unanimously adopted without debate.

The resolutions read:

"The committee on resolutions, after careful consideration of the many subjects submitted to it, has concluded that the very best form of expression of its enthusiastic support to the great leader of our race at home and abroad, John E. Redmond, and his colleagues making up the pledge-bound party, would be in the form of such financial support as may be needed by him to make certain victory in every constituency in Ireland, and in Wales and England where the Irish people have found new homes.

"They recognize that resolutions, merely as such, amount to nothing unless supported by practical work, and so that an example may be set in all other communities and an object lesson be given of sympathy with Ireland's cause to be proved by substantial aid. In this connection, they, on this occasion, pledge no formal resolutions, excepting pledged to John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish people and the pledge-bound party, he has met with matchless skill, winning victories unparalleled by any man who has led our people, the sum of $150,000; and it pledges the members of Irish America to raise that sum within one year from this date.

Missouri Starts With $5000

"That we gratefully recognize and heartily appreciate the increasing evidences of the friendly interest and co-operation of various other organizations of the Irish race in America in the noble work to which the United Irish League of America has devoted itself; we will welcome all such assistance from the friends of Irish liberty and on behalf of this organization we shall do everything in our power to foster and promote and encourage this glorious harmony and unification of Ireland's friends in America.

No time was lost in getting down to the practical work of raising the fund. John P. Leahy of St. Louis was on his feet in a moment with the announcement that Missouri would come to the front with $5000, of which he paid $500 on the spot.

President Ryan announced that Montreal had pledged $10,000 and Michael E. Corbett of New York pledged the Irishmen in the borough of Manhattan for $30,000. The announcements were greeted with cheers, which were revived when John J. Joyce, another New York delegate, said that two-thirds of New York's contribution would be ready in time for the January elections.

Boston Adds $10,000 Pledge

Joseph E. Gavin of Buffalo pledged $2000 for this city, later raising it to $2500 when James E. Dolan of Syracuse named a like amount for his home city. Albany gave $2000, John J. Connelley of Brooklyn pledged $3000 for the city of churches, John P. Lea of Orange, N. J., $5000, Fr. Price $1500 for Pittsburgh, and Baltimore, $2000.

Michael J. Hourke, representing the Lowell branch of the league, pledged $1000 for Lowell in the next two years.

The announcement of these big sums from cities and states aroused great enthusiasm, but it was nothing compared with the demonstration given when Dennis J. Hanlon, president of the board of Erin, Ancient Order of Hibernians, said his organization would give the Irish parliamentary party $1000. This evidence of good will among all organizations of Irishmen has been one of the notable features of this gathering.

Massachusetts pledged $20,000 through Thomas B. Fitzpatrick and Pennsylvania a like sum through Michael Donahue.

Major Buckley of Chicago said that city would come in with $10,000.

There were many individual subscriptions of $1000, including Thomas Hiler of Philadelphia, Hugh McCaffery of Philadelphia, M. T. Maloney, attorney general of Illinois.

"Savina Davitt $500"

Pledges of from $100 to $500 poured in upon the secretary from organizations and individuals from many states. Canada was heard from again when a Toronto delegate pledged that city for $2000, one-half of which he said was ready to hand over to the nationalist board.

Every delegate in the hall caught the enthusiasm of the moment and many of them doubled and trebled their original subscriptions as the fund mounted and passed the $100,000 mark.

Many who gave on Tuesday night duplicated their contributions. "Savina Davitt $5" was an announcement that brought a great cheer. Miss Davitt is a sister of Michael Davitt. Her home is in Washington, D.C.

"The most blessed contribution of the day," said Pres. Ryan and the convention stood for several moments in silence as a mark of respect.

The final total was $151,920.

"I am deeply moved," said Pres. Ryan, "at these evidences of self-sacrifice and self-denial, for I know as well as you know that every dollar we give to this holy cause means just that to many of you and to your families."

Bostonians Re-elected

Michael J. Ryan of Philadelphia was elected president of the league. He had withheld his consent until the last moment and when it was finally given he received an ovation.

John O'Callaghan of Boston, national secretary, and Thomas B. Fitzpatrick of Boston, national treasurer, were also re-elected by a unanimous vote. The following vice presidents were elected:

William Temple Emmet of New York, Michael E. Smith, St. Louis, Charles T. Cook, Chicago, Patrick Martin, Baltimore, John Fitzpatrick, New Orleans and Hugh McCaffery, Philadelphia.

John E. Redmond paid a tribute to Pres. Ryan and renewed his declaration that self-government for the Irish race was never nearer than it is today.

Today the delegates, about 1500 in all, will be the guests of the city of Buffalo on excursions to Niagara Falls and other points around the great city. Hon. John E. Redmond announced that he could not remain as long as he had expected and that he would not be able to visit as many cities as at first supposed.

STRUCK BY AUTO

Haverhill Man Was Badly Injured

HAVERHILL, Sept. 29.—The police are searching for the occupant of an automobile that struck Geo. W. Goddard on Main street in the Bradford district yesterday noon.

Goddard was crossing the street just as a big touring car came along. He did not see the machine and the driver of the automobile did not see Goddard until he struck him. Goddard was thrown about 20 feet, being rendered unconscious and his face and head battered. The automobile driver stopped his machine after striking Goddard, but disappeared as soon as a crowd collected.

Goddard was removed to his home on Merrimac street and his first inquiry when he regained consciousness was what struck him and whether he hurt the automobile.

AN OCEAN ISLAND

Selected for Home of Shiloh Colony

DURHAM, Me., Sept. 29.—Shiloh, the picture colony at Durham of the Holy Ghost and its society, is to be abandoned as headquarters for the sect by Rev. Frank W. Sanford and his followers, and they are to take up their communistic abode on a lonely island located in mid-ocean.

Shiloh, with its great colony building and adjoining farm property, is for HALL & LYON CO., 67-69 Merrimack st., Lowell, Mass.

Information of this important change in the conduct of the Holy Ghost and its society was brought here yesterday by Wabby Joseph, the Chicago Syrian, who recently succeeded in prevailing upon his sister to forsake the Holy Ghost society.

Wabby Joseph came here to see Joseph Harriman, son of Rev. N. H. Harriman.

Joseph Harriman and Wabby Joseph were formerly coworkers in the Shiloh cause in Jerusalem. Since Mr. Joseph left he has heard but little of his friend, and at the request of Harriman's father he came to Shiloh to endeavor to persuade the young man to leave Shiloh.

Mr. Joseph was admitted to Olivette, one of the Shiloh buildings, where he had to wait an hour before he saw his friend. As soon as Mr. Joseph stated his mission Mr. Harriman refused to talk, and told him that any further communication would have to be made through Rev. A. A. Whitaker, who is at present in charge at Shiloh.

Mr. Joseph then went to Lewiston, where he saw George Barton, whose son, Victor Barton, died in Jerusalem some time ago.

Victor Barton was in love with a Canadian girl, Margaret May, who was one of the members of the Shiloh colony at Jerusalem, Mr. Joseph says.

Rev. Mr. Sandford disapproved of their attachment, he stated, and ordered Barton to be confined and to fast for seven days.

Mr. Joseph went to Brunswick after leaving Lewiston and there called on T. Albert Field, a former member of the community. Mr. Joseph told Mr. Field that his sister related many stories of hardship and suffering while the Shilohites were stranded on Mud Island.

Mr. Joseph also told of the future plans of Mr. Sandford, which he had learned from his sister and other members of the community with whom he had talked. Mr. Sandford, he declared, is tired of being abused by sheriffs and therefore decided to sell the buildings in Shiloh in Durham and move the entire colony to an island.

Rev. Mr. Sandford's whereabouts are still unknown, except to his closest advisers. Mrs. Sandford, who has been

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE MIDDLESEX NORTH AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

The annual meeting of the trustees of the Middlesex North Agricultural society was held in Odd Fellows hall, Centralville, yesterday. George W. Trull presided and reports that will go before the annual meeting of the society were read by the different officers.

Resolutions of regret at the death of Henry J. Tolles of Dunstable, a former president; E. C. Farwell, of Reading, and Arthur H. Cluer, of Lowell, a former president, were adopted. John A. Weinbeck, treasurer, read his annual report, the main items of which were: Total expenditures during the past year, $927.07; money deposited in banks at interest, $263.89; money due on mortgages, $4412, and total receipts during the past year, $1312.32. The special committee on membership gave a report of progress. Readings were given by Master Raymond Wilder and Miss Pickles of Wiggintonville. Dinner was served at 12.15.

Health and Beauty Advice

BY MRS. MAE MARTIN

R. M. S.: Sallow complexion, liver blotches, pimples and other eruptions of the skin indicate the need of a good blood tonic and liver. To dissolve one ounce of karoene in one-half pint of alcohol, add one-half cup of water, enough hot water to make a full quart. Take one tablespoonful five minutes before each meal. Karoene purifies the blood, removes the liver, clears the skin, restores lost appetite and tends to strengthen and build up the entire system.

Annette: The affliction of over-fatness is to be deplored at any age, but it is a positive calamity to a young and pretty woman to become too fat in these days when fashion is so slender. The only correct one. You can reduce your weight almost at the rate of a pound a day until you reach the normal weight. Dissolve four ounces of parrotis in 1 1/2 pints of warm water and take a tablespoonful before each meal. You can buy parrotis from any first-class druggist. It is a harmless fat dissolver, and those who take it marvel at its wonderful effect. It makes one look and feel younger, brighter, more buxant and energetic.

Fannie R.: To be sure a complexion is far better than face powder, but you will have to be careful what you use. As most "flour" contains lead, which is an injurious ingredient that is likely to ruin your complexion. Try this expensive one which is all right: Dissolve four ounces of spurmax in a half-pint of hot water and add two (two) spoonfuls glycerine. Rub this on your face, neck and arms, and it will give your skin a very pleasing, delicate tone. This lotion does not show or rub off like powder and will remove that shiny, sallow look to your skin. This preparation is a wonderful skin beautifier and I find it excellent for rough, red or sallow skin, freckles and skin pimples.

R. T.: Unless you kill the follicles (roots) any treatment for superfluous hairs on the face or forearms will prove disappointing. Sometimes one application of a laboratory compound known as delatone will do this; sometimes two or three applications are necessary to force out one of the embarrassing and humiliating hairs. You will have to pay your druggist a dollar for an ounce of delatone, but at that it is cheaper than the electric needle. Just mix a little delatone with enough water to make a paste, cover face with skin from which you wish to remove the hairs, allow to remain two or three minutes; then wipe off (the hairs come off with the paste) and wash the skin with warm water. If the hairs do return after the first treatment, they will be so light and thin as to be unnoticeable.

Mrs. David O.: The only reason why many hair and scalp specialists advise against frequent shampooing is the danger that comes through use of soap and inferior shampoos which contain alkali or other ingredients injurious to the hair. If your hair is thin, very oily and looks so dull, stringy and unkempt a few days after shampooing, try shampooing with a mild soap of carbox dissolved in a cup of hot water, then rinsing thoroughly with clear water as you like, as it will benefit your hair and scalp wonderfully. It will relieve that itching sensation and your hair will be beautiful, fluffy and appear twice as thick. This shampoo dries quickly without any danger of streaking or discoloration.

Miss H. L.: If you only knew what was in those cheap, greasy cold creams you have been smearing on your face, you would never use them again. They are really harmful. Never use anything but a greaseless cream if you don't want hair on your face. At a small expense you can prepare an excellent complexion cream. Jelly by over night together and allowing to stand one ounce alcohol and one-half pint cold water. Use this regularly and it will clear up your complexion wonderfully by removing all dirt, black heads and other effects of hot weather, such as freckles, tan and roughness of the skin of which you speak. This is the only reliable cream I have ever found for removing wrinkles without leaving the skin rough and flabby after massaging and for reducing the size of large, dirt-collecting pores.

Victoria: Your scalp needs a good, stimulating quinine hair tonic to move the dandruff, stop irritation and falling hair. Get from any drug store one-half pint alcohol and one ounce quinine and mix it with one-half pint water and you will have a much better tonic than any of those ready-prepared tonics you have been buying. Brush your hair daily and twice a week apply this tonic to the scalp, rubbing it in gently. This will do wonders for your dull, lifeless, falling hair, and put your scalp in a healthy condition. This tonic will make your hair soft, silky and lustrous. Keep the scalp clean by frequent shampooing with carbox and you will not have further trouble with your hair.

Edith S.: Your headaches and general discomfort feeling very likely comes from your weak, inflamed eyes. You should attend to the matter immediately or you may have to wear glasses permanently. Get an ounce of crystals and dissolve it in a pint of water. Put a few drops in each eye two or three times a day and I am sure it will strengthen your eyes wonderfully and remove your eye troubles generally. I find this a splendid remedy. It does not smart the eyes and is fine for dull, tired, sore eyes that have that overworked feeling.

JOAN TOO FAST

Geers' Mare Outfooted in Every Heat at Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 29.—Joan, the remarkable four-year-old trotter from Pittsfield, demonstrated yesterday afternoon that she can outfoot her older rival, Dottie Archdale, and will start as favorite in the famous Transylvania at Lexington next week.

Yesterday, as when they met last week, the Memphis mare had the stronger following, for in the $10,000 race the finishes were so close that almost everyone thought Dottie should have been first in the summary. The verdict yesterday afternoon was decisive, for when McDewitt pulled Joan out just after getting into the stretch each heat, Geers could not keep his mare in front for more than a few yards. Joan always had the more speed, but Dottie, game racer that she is, hung to her until the very last stride, and had McDewitt busy.

Geers was fearful of the footing, which was a trifle soft, and to save his frail little mare he left the outcome to a brush, something McDewitt was willing to do, as a smashing hard race from wire to wire would greatly injure the chances of both these great trotters in the Transylvania.

The last quarter of the first mile was timed in 30 seconds, Joan trotting it some faster, as she was in behind Dottie Archdale until reaching the stretch. The last quarter of the second and third miles was covered in 31 seconds, Joan in each racing a little better than the official time.

This first heat in 2:04 1/2 is the best mile that the 4-year-old daughter of Directum Spier has ever shown, and stamps her a 2:05 trotter now.

Later in the afternoon the track was much faster. The talent had a tough time, as Grace G. who won the 2:13 pace, was the only favorite to get home with the money.

Massachusetts trotters cost the regular a lot of money in both divisions of the 2:10 trot. Creighton, owned and driven by Chester W. Lasell of Whitesville, topped the first section, while Betty G. from the stable of Walter Cox and owned by John W. Coakley of Boston, headed the other division.

These victories were about the prize package surprises of the year. Creighton looked to be surely beaten, when Flick cut loose with Admiral Red at the suggestion of the judges on Monday.

But the long rest between the third and fourth heats tied the Admiral up, and even the skillful hand of McHenry could not save the money, which was dumped in at $100 to $20. The flash of Betsy G was an old-fashioned Cox killing. The little mare has shown a lot of speed in several races, but bad manners have caused her to be passed up. A change in her rigging has made her as steady as a country doctor's horse, but there was an impression that she was to be held over until next year.

The four-year-old Border Guard, on his three heats around 2:10 last week, coupled with the fact that Geers was to drive him, sent the Boston youngster to the post favorite. The grandson of Blingen caught the word on a break in the first heat, and throughout the race would not trot a full mile.

Cox took the track with Betsy after passing the half in the first heat and was not headed afterward, winning all three heats with something to spare.

With three races gone, the talent went to General H as the sure thing. The horse from Calgary looked to outclass his field, and the heavy odds demanded made no difference in the accurate to get aboard the one best bet of the day.

The Charter Oak winner is out on the track yet, for he never was dangerous. Startle outtrotted himself by overhauling Willy in a smashing drive through the stretch, getting a record of 2:05 1/2. He lasted long enough in the second heat to get a close decision away from Ora Bellini, which gave him the race.

Dickerson and his Bellini gelding fell an eyelash shy again in the third mile, Braced Girdle being first in 2:07, a new record for the flighty daughter of Trogant.

AT ROCHESTER FAIR
ROCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 29.—Three good races and one unfinished race constituted the speed program on the second day of Rochester fair, which was attended by the largest crowd that ever visited Cold Spring park. The attendance was more than 35,000.

The first race on the program was the 2:14 pace, won easily in straight heats by Al Dillard of Paxe Brothers stable, the little Vermont horse showing great speed.

The only accident of the day was in the second heat of this race, when there was a collision between the sulks of Northern Spy and Beveridge, but as the accident was unavoidable both horses were allowed to start in the next heat.

The record of Al Dillard was lowered in the third heat to 2:12 1/2. It took four heats to decide the 2:10 pace. Bohemian, which won the first two heats, made a bad break on the home stretch, and being unable to catch herself finished in the last place, just jumping the flag, but won the last heat by more than five lengths. Billy Ansel took first money in the 2:15 class in straight heats.

The unfinished 2:21 class of Tuesday was won by Derby Directly in a very hot contest, winning two heats straight. He was closely pursued by Maud S. and Belle Wilkes.

TOM PHAIR AGAIN WINS
NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 29.—A large crowd of horsemen were out yesterday to witness the matinee races at Evergreen. Tom Phair was again a winner in straight heats. The first heat was called a heat, but on an appeal to the board of appeals it was given to Tom Phair. Uncle Bill being placed second and R. C. Jordan set back for crowding the pole horse. The second and last heat was the champion's in easy style. The other races were featureless, and, with one exception, were won in straight heats.

ZIMMERMAN IS SLATED TO SUCCEED VETERAN STEINFELDT

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—It is said on good authority that Harry Steinfeldt, the veteran third sacker of the Cubs, will do the bench warming act after the first game with Philadelphia in the world series. Heinie Zimmerman, the Cubs' utility man, is one of the most versatile players in the game today. Since his debut in baseball he has held down every position on the team except pitcher. With Heinie on third the Cubs' infield will be greatly strengthened.

TEXTILE BEATEN

Phillips Academy Defeated Lowell Eleven

ANDOVER, Sept. 29.—Phillips academy defeated Lowell textile school yesterday afternoon, 43 to 0. Andover took advantage of the opportunity to try out new material, and 21 men were put into the game. The backfield was shifted every period, and they were the only men on the team who played through. He went to center for the first time and made an excellent impression.

Penalties were less frequent than in Saturday's game and the contest was interesting despite the one-sided score. Of the eight attempts to kick a goal from a touchdown only three were successful. These were kicked by Capt. Rogers.

R. C. Jefferson and McHenry played conspicuously well for the textile eleven. They often broke through and were responsible for holding Andover for downs, on two occasions.

The Andover backfield played brilliantly throughout the game, the second-string men being as effective in both attack and defense as the regulars. Bigelow played his first game at right guard and showed much ability. The summary:

The Chief Difference Between Crawford Boilers and other boilers is that they heat the houses they are rated to heat;—you don't have to get the "next larger size."

These Boilers give more heat per pound of coal than others and cost less in repairs. They are simplicity itself in operation, are guaranteed for zero weather efficiency and to save fuel, labor, worry and money to those who use them.

There are no packed joints, sheet iron parts or brick linings in these Boilers, and the "Heat Ribs" cast on the interiors are found in no others.

They are a gilt edge investment for those who want heat and plenty of it at the minimum of expense and care.

MORAN A WINNER

He Had 'it Over Pal Moore

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29.—Owen Moran, the determined and plugging Briton, won the popular verdict over Pal Moore, the young Philadelphia, in a six-round windup at the National A. C. last night. Moran showed better fighting ability than the game little Quaker.

Moran kept the Philadelphia boy on the defensive most of the time and had a wide margin at the end. Moore did not seem to be able to pierce the strong guard of Owen, and when he did get through his punches did not have any visible effect on the Englishman.

In the third round Moran was twice put out of commission by Moore hitting low. The first blow almost ended the bout for Moran was doubled up in such pain that it seemed impossible for him to continue. Referee Jack McGuigan then waved Moran to his corner and gave Moran enough time to recuperate. Right after this Pal again fell short and the blow again landed low, bringing more pain to Moran and a wild howl from the crowd. Again did McGuigan call for a short rest and again did Moran, after this brief respite, go after Pal.

The latter was extremely careful after this with his low grounders, for most of his blows were flashed at Owen's head and face, with seldom a landing on any soft spot of the Briton's makeup.

LANCASTER, Pa., Sept. 29.—Jimmy Dolan, of Trenton was substituted last night for Joe Steger against Leo Houck, welterweight champion. He took terrible lacing and threw up the sponge before the fourth round was half over, having been knocked down twice and pounded all about the ring, he fought gamely, but never landed one hard blow during the entire bout.

MEDONALD AND ROCCO DRAW
GLOUCESTER, Sept. 29.—Before one of the largest boxing crowds of the season Kid McDonald of Rosindale and Pat Rocco of Haverhill boxed six hard and fast rounds to a draw last evening. The bout was a slugfest match throughout and although many of the spectators thought that McDonald had a slight advantage, Referee Martin Clougherty of Boston decided honors even.

In the other bouts Young Jasper of the North End, Boston, stopped Kid Murphy of South Boston in the second round of what was to have been a six-round bout; Young Donovan and Young Murphy, both of Gloucester, went four rounds to a draw and Young Huxo and Careless Boy, both of Gloucester, also boxed a four-round draw. THE CITY LEAGUE

Finishes Schedule With Two Teams Tied

The City League has finished its schedule and the close of the season finds the Cadet Jrs. and the South Ends tied for the pennant. The South Ends have played magnificent baseball all year losing to the Y. M. C. A. team the first of the year and going along without defeat until a week ago Saturday when they met the speed boys, the O. M. I. Cadet Jrs., who defeated them 8 to 1.

The Cadets lost two games at the start, one to the South Ends by the score of 3 to 2, and the next to the Chippewas 7 to 4. The Cadets since then have played excellent ball, winning twelve consecutive victories, defeating both the South Ends and the Chippewas.

Next Saturday the Cadet Jrs. and the South Ends will play the tie off on neutral ground and the winner will claim the championship of the city. Both teams are confident of victory and a good game is expected. A large crowd of rooters for both teams will be on hand. The only hitch is the grounds and Manager Brennan of the South Ends is requested to meet Capt. Farrell of the Cadets at 115 East Merrimack street Thursday evening at 8 o'clock to arrange for the grounds.

The banquet which closes the season will be held Oct. 5 at the Y. M. C. A. rooms.

SURPRISED BY FRIENDS
A number of the friends of Thomas Mack of Durant street called at his home last night and presented him a gold mounted umbrella. The presentation speech was made by Mr. Fred Barrett and Mr. Mack responded.

Afterwards a musical and literary program was carried out to which Messrs. George Quinn and Robert Hamilton and Miss Ruth Fowler contributed.

DR. KELLEY, who is president of the association, opened the meeting in the morning and he was followed by a number of physicians from all parts of the United States who read papers on medical topics. The papers advocated wider research.

In the afternoon papers were read by Dr. P. C. Askenstedt of Louisville, Ky., Dr. Henry E. Harrower of Chicago and Dr. Wesley H. Ketchum of Hopkinsville, Ky.

LODGE'S MAN LOST

Ames Candidate for Senator Won a Decisive Victory

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—State Senator Arthur L. Nason of Haverhill, sworn enemy of the republican state machine and bitter opponent of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, swept the republican primaries in the fourth Essex district yesterday. Nason, favors Congressman Butler Ames for United States senator. So decisive was the defeat administered to W. Scott Peters, drafted from the office of district attorney on account of his personal popularity and political prestige, that Nason's followers were claiming last night that Peters would not have a solitary vote in the convention to nominate the senator from the district.

Strong Opposition

Ever since Nason led a victorious fight against J. Otis Wardwell, which deposed that veteran from the state committee and put J. Franklin Batchelder in his place, the republican state machine has been determined to "get" Nason.

In selecting Peters to lead the fight against him, they believed that they had drafted the strongest Lodge supporter in the district, but Nason, with newspapers and the committee against him, has shown, once more that the fourth Essex is an insurgent district and that the Lodge sentiment there is more than weak.

An anti-Lodge republican was chosen by Lynn voters to represent one of the Essex districts in the house, but most of the other victories went to the Lodge forces.

Frank P. Bennett, Jr., of Saugus, who was opposed in a bitter fight by James

W. Killam of Reading, an Ames adherent, succeeded in getting a renomination to the senate from the seventh Middlesex district.

Bennett published a letter a few days ago which, he said, had been stolen from his office and which he said Killam was circulating through the district with intent to make the voters believe that he had gained widespread support. Bennett, however, was returned easily although much of the district is in Ames territory.

In the fourth congressional district Pierce has apparently defeated Wilder for the republican nomination, having 71 delegates to 72 for Wilder.

The general feeling of insurgency that has been manifest in all the elections this year cropped up even in the Berkshires, where Senator William Turtie, one of the veterans at the state house, was opposed for renomination by Homer A. Hall of North Adams. At midnight both candidates were claiming victory and the returns were so close that even prejudiced observers were unable to pick the winner.

The returns were so late that Senator J. Howell Crosby of Arlington said at midnight that he had no idea whether he had been returned or defeated. At midnight it looked as though most of the contests would not be decided until today.

SCHOOL ALUMNI

To be Formed in Sacred Heart Parish

Scores of former pupils of the Sacred Heart school met at the school hall in Moore street last night for the purpose of making arrangements for the formation of an alumni association.

Rev. Sister Joseph, the first superior of the school, was present at the meeting and given a cordial reception. Following this there was an informal reception at which Rev. Sister Joseph spoke, recalling some of the early days at the school. Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., also gave words of hearty welcome to those present and pointed out the advantages of an alumni association.

Rev. Fr. Flynn spoke, whereupon Rev. Fr. McDermott, a former pupil, was chosen chairman. When the registration of the meeting had been completed, it was voted to adjourn to next Friday night at 7.30 o'clock, when it is hoped a still larger number will be present. All former pupils, whether graduates or not, are cordially invited to be present.

NAVY RECORDS

Men Remembered for Their Heroism

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—For heroic action after the oil tank explosion aboard the battleship North Dakota on Sept. 8, when three men were killed and many injured, appropriate recognition by the government was made yesterday of 16 members of the crew of that vessel through Acting Secretary of the Navy Winthrop.

John J. Quinlan of Charlestown, Mass., and George F. Ellis of Mansfield, Mass., water-tenders, were warmly commended; Charles Roberts of Boston, first class machinist mate, was awarded a medal of honor and a gratuity of $100.

Quinlan, Ellis and two others entering a fire room, faced heat so intense that the hose had to be played on them, and drew all fires in the furnaces there. The other six drew the fires in another fire room while the oil was burning on top of a boiler, taking all the precautions to prevent a boiler explosion, and assisted in carrying out corpses in water, waist-deep, dense smoke, heat and fumes. Roberts was overcome by fumes and gases.

FIRE PROTECTION

FOR THE FORESTS ADVOCATED AMONG PRIVATE OWNERS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—One of the lessons which will finally be drawn from the trying experience of the present forest fire season, in the belief of officials of the United States department of agriculture, is the need of wider organization among private owners of timber to safeguard their holdings.

It is pointed out that already in the northwest, both on the Pacific coast and in Montana and Idaho, timberland owners have formed themselves into associations which assess the members on an acreage basis and thus meet the cost of maintaining a regular patrol and fire-fighting organization. Only by getting together can private owners usually assure themselves protection, for fire is no respecter of boundary lines and the man who undertakes to keep it out of his own timber will want it kept out of his neighbor's too. Wherever possible, the government's forest officers cooperate with the force put in the field by the associations, so that the employees of the government and those of the private owners are handled practically as a unit in fighting the common enemy.

This cooperation is advantageous to both sides. Protection of the National forests necessarily carries with it a school of protection of adjoining interior holdings. If the private owners would everywhere shoulder their reasonable share of the burden, the public would gain both through more general forest conservation and through relief from the necessity of paying for the protection of private timber in order to protect its own.

73 ARE WOUNDED

In Fight Between Berlin Police and Coal Strikers

BERLIN, Sept. 29.—It was officially reported today that 73 persons were wounded severely during the conflicts between the coal strikers and the police in the Moabit district last night. Twelve alleged ringleaders were held.

ARTESIAN WELL

Being Driven by Cudahy Packing Company

The Cudahy Packing company has started to drive an artesian well in the rear of its building in Market street, the work being done by Royers, Barker and company of Providence, R. I., who have the contract to drive these wells for the Cudahy people at all their plants.

The work of driving the well was begun on Monday and no water has been struck as yet though the drivers have gone down 70 feet into the earth. It is expected that water will be struck at a depth of 100 feet.

Today quiet prevails. As usual nearly all of the hundreds who were arrested were released later on their own recognizance. Twelve alleged ringleaders were held.

The Cudahy concern pays the city of Lowell $400 per year for water alone and believes that it can save money in the long run by having its own well.

The water is used principally in the manufacture of ice, for while it is not generally known the plant operates its own ice plant. The company requires 20 gallons of water per minute and the proposed well will be drilled upon to supply that amount. Mr. Connell, the engineer for the concern, is of the opinion that the well eventually will be in the vicinity of 160 ft. deep. Long ago a well was driven in the boiler house of the Stevens heirs in the passageway between Market and Middle streets, only a few feet away from where the new well is being driven. The old well produced water which passed a fine analysis, at a depth of about 25 feet. This water was so good that it was used for drinking purposes by tenants of the Stevens buildings. Some years ago, however, the sewer backed up and flooded the well and since that time the water has never been used. The engineers believe that good water will be struck on the site now being driven.

PLANS MADE

FOR NEW CAPITALIZATION OF CONNECTICUT COMPANY

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 29.—The plans for making the Connecticut company stand in a new relation to the controlling New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad corporation provide for new capitalization of the former company based on its bonded debt and advances for improvements. The bonded debt, including a debt of about $10,000,000 in bonds of the parent company amounts to about $27,000,000 and advances to $3,000,000 more. The direct bonded debt being made up of underlying mortgage bonds. There will also be provision made for trolley extensions and improvements.

In the new plan the parent and controlling company takes over absolutely all the Connecticut company's obligations, paying them as they mature from the steam corporation's resources, this ultimately leaving the Connecticut company free from debt, the former being compensated by dividends on the controlled company's shares practically all of which will be in the New Haven company's treasury.

The Connecticut company has thus re-financed owns or controls about 50 per cent. of the trolleys of the state of Connecticut and about 30 per cent. of their gross receipts amounting in the last annual report to $7,948,331 which figure has been greatly increased in the fiscal year of 1909-10.

GEORGE W. PATTEN

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—George W. Patten, the millionaire grain operator who died last night of tuberculosis at the home of his brother, James Patten, in Evanston, left a fortune estimated at $5,000,000, the greater part of which, it is said, will be left to public charities, including a large donation for the furtherance of the anti-tuberculosis campaign.

Though relatives have tried to conceal from him the belief that he was doomed, it had been known for months that he was suffering from tuberculosis and that there was no hope of recovery. He spent eight years in Colorado fighting against the malady.

Two weeks ago announcement was made that Mr. Patten had created a fund of $500,000 known as the Agnes and Louisa Patten fund for the endowment of the Evanston hospital, an institution in which the two brothers took a great interest.

crease of $1,906,448 as against $1,204,050 for the previous year.

The most important additions of the year to the fund have been the Yale alumni fund of $94,750, boat house subscription of $65,144; the Hewitt bequest of $360,000; the Laffan professorship fund of $100,000; the Sage gift of $650,000; the Sillsbury trust funds $331,577, and additions to the university endowment and extension fund of $341,118.

The most important additions to income were $49,000 from the alumni fund and $34,351 from the Carnegie foundation. Financially it has been the best year for Yale in her history. The total increases in the departmental funds have amounted to $334,062 as compared with $508,600 the previous year.

The revenues of the whole university and departments were $1,197,569 and total expenditures $1,171,166, showing a credit balance for the year of $26,404. A table for all departments of the average cost of instruction per student shows a cost of $283.27, while the average receipts per student were but $134.21.

The investment account shows holdings of real estate in New Haven of $40,113; in New York of $126,249 and in Chicago of $50,852. The treasurer announces as a policy restriction of mortgage loans to New Haven and New York.

WALKING STUNT

"Mike" O'Connell Beats It Down Andover St.

How long a walk is it from the corner of Newmuth and Andover streets to the public scales at the junction of the roads near the entrance to the Long Meadow golf links?

It took Mike O'Connell, the well known pedestrian of the Y. M. C. I., just 17 minutes and 30 seconds to find out how long a walk it is, last evening when he set out to make the distance in 15 minutes on a bet of the supper with Peter Rogers. O'Connell bet that he could negotiate the distance in 15 minutes and Rogers bet he couldn't, and allowed him to have Paul McCosker, who possesses the longest pair of limbs in the Y. M. C. I., for pacer-maker. Ex-President William Kings of the Y. M. C. I. was chosen referee and time-keeper and Frank McCone officiated as "runner-up." A crowd of about 25 enthusiasts followed O'Connell on his way through an Andover street car which passed before half the distance had been traversed got most of them.

As they passed the Bitman road a strong contrary wind was encountered and Mr. O'Connell stated that he hadn't figured on the wind when he made the bet though he gamely stuck it out. According to the referee's watch he made the distance in 17 minutes and 30 seconds, 30 seconds behind his bet.

Several of the party avowed that they could make the distance in 15 minutes and from the discussion that followed it is probable that the Y. M. C. I. will go in for pedestrianism this fall and will start by making the Andover street walk.

This morning the Illinois Central railroad had ready a special train which was to endeavor to beat the daring sky-mariner into the state capital.

BOSTON TOURISTS

Say They Were Held Up by
Brigands in Italy

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Robert A. Bolt of Boston, who arrived here yesterday with Mrs. Bolt and their daughter, Miss Alice Bolt, on board the Oceanic, of the White Star line, told how he and his family and two relatives were held up by masked robbers on July 10 last, in a lonely road in Tuscany.

The robbers, not satisfied with $50 they found, sent Mrs. Bolt to a nearby village for $250 more.

If it had not been for the ready wit of Mrs. Bolt, whose example was followed by the other two women in the group, the robbers would have seized a considerable amount of jewelry. But on the appearance of the robbers Mrs. Bolt drew off her rings and dropped them under the seat of the automobile in which she and her relatives were riding. Her daughter and niece quickly did likewise.

Mr. and Mrs. Bolt and their daughter joined Mr. Bolt's brother, Mr. Edward Bolt, and his niece, Miss Patten, early last July at the Villa Certini, at Volturno, in Tuscany. They were returning from an automobile ride at dusk July 10 last, and were within a mile of the villa, when they found their way barred at a turn of the road by a pile of stone and brick.

Masked Men
As the car was brought to a stop by the chauffeur two masked men jumped from the bushes by the roadside, one carrying a revolver and the other a rifle. When the robbers had received that more money be obtained.

Mr. Bolt and his brother persuaded the robbers to allow the women to be taken in the car by the chauffeur back to the villa. As soon as they had gone Mr. Bolt and his brother, with the weapons leveled at their heads, were forced to walk into the forest a short distance from the road.

Mrs. Bolt and the chauffeur returned in half an hour with $250, which she handed over without a word. The robbers then fled. At the villa, Mrs. Bolt had found thirty men servants and farm hands within call, but she feared to do this, lest any attempt to drive off the robbers should result in loss of life.

Within a few minutes after the robbers disappeared, Mr. Bolt said yesterday, "servants from the villa came up. They searched the woods until late at night, but without result. The matter was taken up by the Italian authorities, who offered a reward for the capture of the bandit."

Mr. and Mrs. Bolt and Miss Bolt went to the Hotel Belmont and will go within a few days to Boston.

Robert A. Bolt is a member of an insurance firm on Kilby street. His brother, Edward D. Bolt, is one of Boston's prominent architects.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Wright Lorimer, clad in the leopard skin and wearing the staff and sling of the shepherd boy, David, is presenting his romantic drama, "The Shepherd King," at the Opera House all this week.

He brings with him an excellent company of players and the usual wealth of scenic effects and costumes for which this production has been noted in the past. "The Shepherd King" does not appear to diminish in popularity as the years roll on, but seems to gain a stronger hold on the public on the occasion of each succeeding visit.

The reverent treatment of the life story of David, one of the most lovable of all the heroic characters of the old testament, has made it a play favorite with the church-going people who are not regular patrons of the theatre and there are enough points of excellence in the performance to interest all regular habitués of the playhouse. Mr. Wm. A. Brady, who is managing the tour of Mr. Lorimer, promises that this engagement will be a notable one in the history of the play, both from an acting and a scenic standpoint.

THOS. A. WISE

Plays may come and plays may go, but that great American comedy, "A Gentleman from Mississippi," which patrons of the Opera House will see soon, is one of those plays that once seen is never forgotten. The high note in its third year of phenomenal success, it is still playing everywhere to just need of recognition which it deserves. Manager Wm. A. Brady, in support of his star, Thos. A. Wise, in his now famous role of Senator Langdon, will send the entire company that appeared during the memorable sixteen weeks' run at the Park theatre, Boston, last season.

FRANK DANIELS

The Shuberts have always had more or less success in adapting English musical comedies. "A Chinese Honey-moon," which ran for a year at the New York Casino, is a case in point; then came "Havanna." Their most recent success was "The Belle of Brittany," which they had adapted for this country for the role of Frank Daniels. The piece had much vogue in New York and the Shuberts are now sending it to this city where it will be seen.

at the Opera House next Tuesday, Oct. 4.

The music of the play, oddly enough, is by Howard Talbot, the composer of "A Chinese Honey-moon," while Leedham Bantock and P. J. Barrow have written the book. Additional numbers are by Marie Horne, a well known English composer.

In "The Belle of Brittany" Mr. Daniels' delightful drolery gives to very fine advantage in its environment of fresh and graceful melody and equally fresh and graceful girls, the Shuberts having seen to it that Mr. Daniels was surrounded by a company which contains many favorites and scenes of beautiful girls. His role, that of the Marquis de St. Gaudier, is a decided departure for Mr. Daniels. The part is that of an impoverished nobleman who negotiates a loan of the local miller. When he finds he is unable to repay, he tries to raise the money by marrying his son, Raymond, to his ward, Denise. Raymond, of course, has already fallen in love with the daughter of the miller and now hates have decreed, it happens that the marriage to be laid down by the bankrupt Marquis. One of the most amusing play scenes in the play occurs when Mr. Daniels delivers a discourse on the paintings of his famous ancestors. These canvases are hung on the walls of the ancestral hall, and so droll is his comment, much of it by the way, impromptu, that he frequently "breaks up" the actors and actresses who are required to form his stage audience during this family tree discourse.

Mr. Daniels has also been supplied with a number of very fetching songs. It seems trite to add that he "sings them over." He leads off with "I Must Go Home To-night," and quickly follows with "The Old Chateau" and "Sing to Your Dear One."

THE BLUE MOUSE

Clyde Fitch, the playwright, has turned naturalist. While in Germany he captured a mischievous but somewhat soiled mouse. The habit of this strange yet amusing rodent were not too good. But once landed in New York, Mr. Fitch scrubbed the tiny beast, when, behold, it shone a delicate blue. With the playwright as preceptor, the rodent's habits also changed and now, as the American "Blue Mouse," E. J. Carpenter will exhibit him as the purest example of an Al 1910-11 sensation.

Being a playwright, Clyde Fitch naturally made an actor, or rather actress, out of the mouse and he has named his latest play "The Blue Mouse," which, of course, is a farce as it could be nothing but a joke to turn an animal into a play. It is this "Blue Mouse," harmless but exorcisingly funny, that comes to the opera house, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 7 and 8, when that dainty little actress, Wanda Ludlow, will be seen as the same "Blue Mouse," for one must have already guessed that a rodent can't act.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

A real hit, that is what the Heidelberg Four has made at the new Merrimack Square theatre, just round the corner in Paige street, this week. A male quartet as good as the Heidelberg Four has not put in an appearance in Lowell for a good long time, so says the general verdict. The Four's repertoire includes all the latest and most tuneful songs, with one or two of the old favorites as a proper background.

Then there is the Scenic Stock company presenting that strong one act play, "Dr. George." The play is full of tense moments and has a climax which strikes home its lesson with the force of a blow. The play has a strong original plot which is bound to hold the attention.

Other numbers on the bill which are highly entertaining are Murphy and Andrews in a character sketch, George S. Lauder the Australian ventriloquist and the Kolo Trio of acrobats.

A continuous performance is presented daily from 11 until 10.30 o'clock. Admission is 10 cents with a few reserved seats at 25 cents, including the price of admission. Matinees except Saturdays and holidays, are 10 cents.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

A complete musical comedy, chorus, scenery and comedians, is "Tom, Walter on Hairs," which is headlined at Hathaway's, this week. The little piece is replete with laughter, through the presence of John B. Hymer, an excellent comedian, in the leading role. There are 16 people in the company.

Helen Royton in "Allas Irish Tossie" scores a distinct hit, and the other good acts on the bill are: Maximo, slack wire performer; Mamie Harnish, in songs and stories; Wolf, Moore and Young, dancers; Jimmy Doherty, singing comedian; Sansone and Della, sensational jugglers, and the Hathaway.

Performances will be given every afternoon and evening during the remainder of the week.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

There is an entirely new show at the Academy today, including Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wyatt in a comedy sketch, "The Unexpended." The Thompson Brothers, sensational hand acrobats, and The Bicknells, Whirlwind Novelty Dancers. There will be selected moving pictures, including a biograph. Admission 5 and 10c.

MOHAIR CRICKET CLUB

At the weekly meeting of the board of management of the Mohair Cricket club, held at the club house, Tuesday night, it was resolved that a series of whist parties be held as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made. The committee appointed to manage the same are: Messrs. Sidebottom, Hunt, Marshall and Watson.

The four vacancies on the board of management were filled by the election of Messrs. Janness, Hunt, Sidebottom and Mitchell.

There will be a general meeting of the members on Tuesday next, Oct. 4 in the club house at 8 p. m. promptly, for the purpose of electing a president, and for any other business that may be legally brought before the meeting. A large attendance of members is desired.

October 1st is quarter day at the Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank.

KILLAM IS DOWNED

Senator Bennett Frazzled the Ames Senatorial Candidate

All the caucuses have been held and while we don't know as yet whether Butler Ames is going to be a United States senator or not we do know that the claims of the Lodge forces relative to the comparative strength of the candidates is woefully in need of revision. Congressman Ames' secretary, Mr. Logan, said last evening that the colored was well satisfied with the results of the caucuses, and if he is, there must be a reason. The Ames people bank upon getting about all of the democratic members in both houses but in the event of the democrats making big gains on election day, which is not at all improbable there will be a democratic candidate for United States senator in the field. If there is no home town. The only showing made by Killam was in wards five and nine of Lowell, where after personal canvassing by both sides Killam carried both wards, getting five delegates. He also carried Wilmington, but Bennett landed everything else except Billerica, with one unpledged delegate, and Tewksbury, Congressman Ames' home town, with two delegates. Carlisle also elected an unpledged delegate. Senator Bennett gets 27 pledged delegates. Mr. Killam six, while four are unpledged. The Ames forces worked hard for Killam but without success. They gave but little attention to the contest in Haverhill and their man won by a big majority. Such is politics.

Eighth Senatorial District

As most of the towns in the eighth senatorial district sent unpledged delegates to the convention, Messrs. Pearson and Draper are hustling among the suburbanites with the result in doubt. In the city Mr. Draper had 13 delegates with 11 for Mr. Pearson making the situation close.

On the republican side Senator Ribbard not only swept the city but made good in most of the towns. The Congressional Situation

Edward L. Tierney, who handled Col. Carmichael's campaign, stated last evening that a canvass of the district gives Col. Carmichael 40 delegates, or several more than the number necessary for a choice. He states further that Chelmsford, which elected two delegates pledged to Mr. Casey is entitled to but one delegate under the apportionment.

Congressman-elect McGillicuddy

Congressman-elect McGillicuddy

Maine has written Col. Carmichael a letter of congratulation in which is a part promise to come here during the campaign and speak in the interest of the democratic ticket.

THE FALL EXHIBIT

At the New York Cloak
and Suit Store

The New York Cloak and Suit Store was the mecca of hundreds of feminine visitors yesterday, bent on viewing the delightful fall exhibit offered by that most progressive of shops. The visit simply repeats all fastidious women wishing to learn "what the styles are going to be this fall—the great question of the hour. The store is delightfully stocked with styles smart, sensible, striking and serviceable.

The tailored suits for street wear, in the most modish cuts, and latest colors, are of course the chief feature of the vast stock, but besides these smart garments there is an infinity of attractive things for morning, afternoon and evening wear. There is an endless choice of delicious little dancing frocks, with smart, short, hobble skirts, and showing all the delicate pastel tints in chiffon, embroidered ballets, nets, silk, etc. Among other evening gowns shown, a particularly beautiful one, exhibited in a window, is of corn and blue silk and chiffon, with split pearls woven into the fabric.

In other dressy gowns, the delightful Persian designs are very prominent, and the soft lustrous satins covered with chiffon, furnishing particularly lovely effects for afternoon wear. The petticoats and vests also show this Persian effect in great degree.

In contrast to these "fluffy fluffy" things, come the plain, smart togs for the auto. No motor enthusiast, no matter how far she may wish to "note" need go further for her auto wardrobe. Many of these smart, severe effects are now secured, by the way, from Berlin, whose styles are becoming quite popular with the American buying public.

The fur department is another feature of the New York Store well worth a visit. It offers an infinite variety of choice, and inspection of its treasures is a delight. Fur coats of every description for you, ranging from $50 to $500, and an endless array of stoles and muffins in every kind and quality of fur. The rainfall fur, which you must go and see, by the way, is the great novelty of the hour, the latest shriek.

For the opening, the great shop is tastefully decorated with autumn leaves, grapes, and poppies, the effect being most attractive.

SENT TO PRISON

Mafia Agent Was Given
Six Years

BOSTON, Sept. 22.—Patsy Mete, said to be an agent of the Mafia, for making a sudden and unprovoked attempt to kill Liberto Mastroiolo of 44 Franklin street, East Boston, early in the morning of Aug. 4, in East Boston, at Orleans and Maverick streets, was yesterday sentenced by Justice Jenney, in the superior criminal court, to from six to ten years in state prison.

The case has puzzled the police and the district attorney's office. No motive can be discovered. All that can be gleaned is that Mastroiolo was marked by the Mafia; that he was trapped, and that the blow fell and failed. The man chosen to do the deed is a young immigrant, only 18 years old.

Mastroiolo was attacked by Mete in the morning, between 4:45 and 5:30. Having harnessed his horse to his wagon to drive to Beverly, he stopped at a Maverick and Orleans streets to buy a sandwich.

Coming out of the store he was approached by Patsy Mete, whom he did not know and had never seen before. Mete said: "Will you please read this card for me." Mastroiolo took the card and held it close to his eyes as the writing was indistinct. Mete, at once stepped behind him, and drew a knife along the left side of his victim's face and neck. Mete then fled, followed by Mastroiolo and a rapidly growing crowd, and ran into the arms of Officer Hadley.

The card handed by Mete to Mastroiolo was an ordinary business card of a jewelry concern in Boston. It bore on its back in Italian the almost undecipherable legend: "Veni su to Fleet street—12" (Come up to Fleet street—12). Mete was one of a number who draw word of laws which the best efforts of court interpreters have failed to translate.

One end of the card is a depth of about three-quarters of an inch, had been torn off which leads some who have studied the case to believe that Mete was one of a number who draw word of laws which the best efforts of court interpreters have failed to translate.

IN POLICE COURT

Tuberculosis Patients Skipped
From Tewksbury

This morning's session of the police court was a comparatively short one, there being but few offenders in the dock. Some of those in the gilded cage were old offenders, but Judge Hadley was inclined to be lenient with them.

The trial of the case of John Therien, charged with being drunk, took up more than half of the brief session. John is so deaf that the only thing to use while talking with him is a megaphone. He denied that he was drunk, but Patrolmen Ganley and Castles testified that they found him and another man in a house in Fletcher street, charged with being drunk, took up

There was a pitcher of beer on the table and plenty of evidence that the occupants of the house had been drinking. Therien's condition was such that the court deemed it advisable to send him to jail for ten days.

Thomas Guthrie and Patrick Kirby are inmates of the tuberculosis camp at the state infirmary at Tewksbury, but yesterday decided that they would pay a visit to Lowell and taking "French leave" from the camp came to Lowell and fell in with a number of their friends. Of course the friends were glad to see Tom and Patrick and an informal reception was held in one of the thirteenth extinguishing parlors with the result that the escaped patients were placed under arrest. In court this morning they signified a desire to go back to the farm and the court allowed them to do so.

Andrew Touchette was found guilty of being drunk and was sentenced to 14 days in jail.

The case of George Rapson, charged with threatening, was continued for one week.

Several first offenders were fined $2 each and three simple drunks were released.

STIMSON NOMINATED

Roosevelt Picks Sugar Trust Prosecutor to Head Ticket in N. Y.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 28.—The republican state convention last evening nominated Henry L. Stimson of New York as its candidate for governor. The nomination of Mr. Stimson was one more victory for Col. Theodore Roosevelt, who personally led the fight for the nomination of his candidate, completing the unbroken series of triumphs from the moment the convention was called to order Tuesday afternoon until its final adjournment.

The vote for governor stood as follows: Henry L. Stimson, 664; William S. Bennett of New York, 249; Thomas B. Dunn of Rochester, 18; James J. McEwan of Albany, 28; scattering, 23. The state was made up yesterday morning by Col. Roosevelt, Senator Root and their advisers, went through without a hitch. With the exception of the nominations for governor and comptroller, there were no contests. Representative Bennett, who had been conducting the only open campaign for the nomination for governor, kept up his efforts to the end, and his persistence and strength with the New York delegation, threatened to break the state.

To Stump State
It is said that Colonel Roosevelt will stump the state for the ticket. He is reported to have said yesterday that he would do so.

At the close of the convention James S. Wadsworth, Jr., speaker of the assembly, announced his withdrawal from the legislature. The speaker made this statement:

"I have definitely determined not to be a candidate for re-election to the assembly. This determination was reached by me some time ago and is due entirely to my personal view as to the length of time during which a member of assembly should be a candidate for speaker and, if successful, hold that important and difficult office. I have been speaker of the assembly for five years. This decision must not be taken to indicate that I am a candidate for any other office; I am not. I shall, of course, continue to take an active interest in the welfare of the republican party and with that object in view, I have accepted a membership in the republican state committee."

Mr. Wadsworth had nothing to add to his statement and would not say that his retirement was due to the victory of the progressives of the convention.

The close of the convention found the Roosevelt forces in complete control of the situation. It was the election of Colonel Roosevelt as temporary chairman yesterday, over Vice President Sherman, which decided the issue between the colonel and the organization, but the old guard kept up its opposition grimly until the end.

The ticket nominated is as follows:

New York Republican Ticket

For governor, Henry L. Stimson of New York.

For lieutenant governor, Edward Schoenbeck of Syracuse.

For secretary of state, Samuel S. Koenig of New York (renominated).

For state comptroller, James Thompson of Valley Falls.

For state treasurer, Thomas F. Fenelon of Elmira.

For state engineer, Frank M. Williams of Oneida (renominated).

For attorney general, Edward B. O'Malley of Buffalo (renominated).

For associate judge of the court of appeals, Irving G. Vann of Syracuse (renominated).

POPULATION FIGURES

For Twenty Cities in This State
Made Public

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—Population figures for Malden, Quincy and Waltham were made public yesterday by the census bureau, making a total of 20 of the 24 largest cities in Massachusetts for which returns have been made up to date. Yesterday's figures were as follows:

Malden 44,404, an increase of 10,740, or 31.9 per cent over 33,664 in 1900. Quincy 32,642, an increase of $743, or 36.6 per cent over 23,899 in 1900. Waltham 27,524, an increase of 4,353, or 18.5 per cent over 23,171 in 1900.

The gain of 10,740 for Malden is larger than that added in the previous decade, when the population increased by 10,638, and raises Malden from the 16th in the list of Massachusetts cities to 13th, passing Chelsea, Salem and Haverhill.

Quincy goes up in the list from 22nd place to 26th, passing Chelsea and Brockton. As in 1900, it follows Everett by less than 1000. Quincy also shows a greater gain since 1900 than for the 10 years before it, the figures respectively being 8743 and 7176. Waltham's gain of 4353 is slightly less than in 1890-1900, when it was 4774. It is now surpassed in population by Pittsfield, which added nearly 10,000 to its numbers since 1900, but will probably go ahead of Gloucester, official returns for which have not yet been made, and so remain the 23d city in the state.

According to the census returns for 20 of the principal cities of the state and estimations made for four others, the cities which have gained in standing since 1900, in addition to Malden and Quincy, are New Bedford, Springfield, Fitchburg (as estimated), Taunton, Everett and Pittsfield.

The cities which have lost in standing, although with a single exception they have gained in actual population, are Lynn, Lawrence, Haverhill, Salem, Chelsea and probably Gloucester.

The following table shows the population and standing of the 24 largest cities in the state. In the cases of Worcester, Brockton, Fitchburg and Gloucester, for which returns have not yet been made, they have been estimated by adding to the 1900 figures the increase for 1890-1900.

City	Rank	Pop.	Rank	Pop.
Boston	1	670,555	1	660,892

MATRIMONIAL

A very pretty wedding took place last evening at the home of Mrs. Emma Richburg, 147 Smith street, when her daughter, Miss Harriet Mae, was united in marriage to Mr. George Preston Graham. The marriage was performed by Rev. B. A. Willmott. Mr. Ulysses Morrill of Fitchburg was best man and the maid of honor was Miss Grace Richburg, a sister of the bride. The bride was attired in white satin with lace trimmings and she wore a white bridal veil and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore satin messaline with lace trimmings and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The house was tastefully decorated with potted plants, ferns and chrysanthemums. The ceremony was performed under a floral bell and was witnessed by a large number of friends and relatives. There were friends present from Ellenville, New York, Brooklyn, Bradford, Winchester, Boston, Fitchburg and Leominster. Mr. and Mrs. Graham received numerous wedding gifts. They left on an automobile tour of the White mountains and later will visit Florida, where they will remain for the winter months. Mr. and Mrs. Graham will be at home in Leominster after April 1. Mr. Graham is engaged in the automobile business in Leominster.

ARSENAL—FORTIN

Mr. Honorius P. Arsenault and Miss Lucie Gertrude Fortin were married yesterday morning at St. Joseph's rectory, at a mass celebrated at 7 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Gustave Bernache, O. M. I. Mr. John Brennan was best man and Miss Victorine Arsenault, bridemaid. During the mass, the choir of the Congregation de Notre-Dame de Lourdes sang, with Mr. Joseph A. Bernard at the organ. After the ceremony breakfast was served at the bridegroom's home, 70 Ludlam street, Mr. and Mrs.

Argenta leaving later on a two weeks' wedding tour in Maine. On their return they will reside in Parker avenue, Dracut.

GATELY—PAULSON

Mr. George P. Gately, stamp clerk at the post office, and Miss Anna P. Paulson of Bradford, Me., were united in marriage yesterday morning at the Immaculate Conception church. Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O. M. I., performed the ceremony. Miss Christina A. Gately was bridesmaid and Mr. John A. Gately was best man. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gately, 192 South street. Mr. and Mrs. Gately left on the 12.12 train for Norfolk, Va., where they will remain for three weeks. On their return they will reside at 171 Pleasant street.

McINTOSH—FARNUM

Mr. Herbert H. McIntosh and Miss Myrtle H. Farnum, both of Lowell, were married yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock by Rev. B. A. Willmott at his residence, 355 Beacon street. They were married by Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh will be at home at their friends at 37 Dracut street, after November 1st.

His trial will be fixed later in the term.

RAID WAS MADE

On Offices of Boston Brokers

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—The local office of B. H. Scheffels & Co., at 53 Devonshire street, was raided by United States marshals today. C. W. Holbrook, the manager, was placed under arrest.

The raiding party consisted of Deputy Marshals Bancroft, Young, and Ruel, Inspector Harris of police headquarters, two secret service agents, and acting under Fred Schmidt, special agent of the department of justice.

Considerable excitement followed the entrance of the posse into the offices. About sixty customers were held together with all the clerks, while the officers took all the names of customers and clerks and allowed them to go and then proceeded to take possession of all the papers and accounts.

SIR THOMAS STRONG

WAS ELECTED LORD MAYOR OF LONDON

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Sir Thomas V. Strong was today elected lord mayor of London without opposition. Sir Thomas is a pronounced temperance advocate and enjoys the distinction of being the first teetotaler chosen as chief magistrate of the metropolis.

FELL FROM ROOF

Woman Perhaps Fatally Injured in Perry's Court

Mrs. Jennie Coates, aged about 40 years, fell from the roof of a building in Perry's court, off Middlesex street, late last night and suffered a fracture of the right shoulder, a dislocation of the left hip, a bad scalp wound and numerous bruises about the body. It is also feared that she has suffered internal injuries.

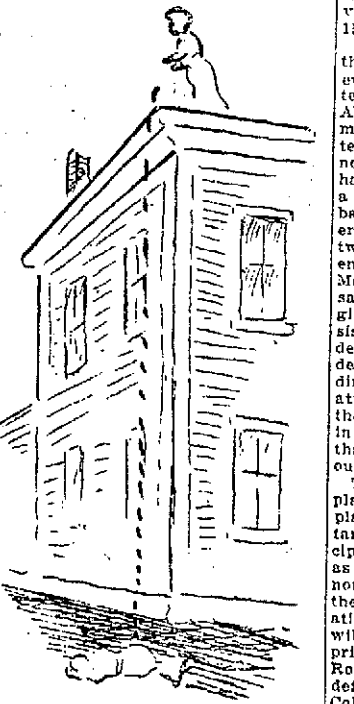

She is now at St. John's hospital and her condition is considered critical.

At the time the woman was removed in the ambulance to the hospital she claimed that she had been thrown through a window but an investigation by the police resulted in their learning that the statement was untrue.

A woman who lives in the court informed the officers who were sent to investigate the case that she saw Mrs. Coates walking about the flat roof of a two-story building. She was given to understand that the woman was searching for a cat which had been lost.

The woman was found lying in a small alley leading off the court, her groans attracting the attention of people who happened to be passing. They removed her to a nearby store and telephoned for the ambulance.

She was in a dazed condition and in-tinued that she had been thrown from a window, but her story was so disconnected that the police concluded she was not quite rational at the time. The police, however, investigated the matter and are satisfied that the woman was not at fault.

Inquiry at St. John's hospital this afternoon brought forth the information that there was no change in the woman's condition. Her name is on the dangerous list and although the officials entertain hopes for her recovery the accident may result fatally.

New York Democrats Discussing Several Candidates

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 28.—With 223 of the 413 votes under his control, Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, was in a position to dominate the democratic state convention here today. Upon Mr. Murphy's use of this power that came to him through the coalition of the delegates from New York, Kings, Queens, and Erie counties depends the composition of the ticket that will be placed in the field to oppose the candidates nominated yesterday by the republicans at Saratoga.

Thus far no up-state combination has developed strong enough to threaten the supremacy of the leaders from the two largest cities of the state. The question was not one of the Tammany leader's power, however, but of his disposition to use it. While the several up-state candidates acknowledged that the nomination of their men depended on Mr. Murphy's declaration that the up-state delegates would name the ticket. But few ventured to predict how broad an interpretation the Tammany leader would give this promise.

There were reports early in the day that the New York leaders had made up their minds that one of their own organization would make as strong a run as any of the outside candidates and that their confidence of a democratic victory this fall was so strong that they would conclude to nominate from their own backlist.

May Not Be Shepard.

Mr. Murphy was said to be weighing Mr. Shepard's availability with increasing doubt. The Tammany leader was credited with the opinion that it would be difficult to convince voters that the Brooklyn attorney was the choice of any representative forces up-state and that if the democratic candidate this year was to run with the supposed handicap of a Tammany affiliation he might as well be an out and out Tammany man. It was a question in his mind, the report went, just how closely the voters would associate Shepard and Tammany.

To convince the New York leaders that there was a real demand for Mr. Shepard above the Bronx his friends were busy this morning obtaining the signatures of representative up-state delegates to a statement favoring his candidacy.

The last conference adjourned at 10 o'clock last night with the question of candidates unsettled. Efforts to induce Congressman James Havens to withdraw failed, the alternative of a seat on the supreme court bench, it was said, having failed to prove sufficiently attractive to the Monroe county congressman.

Thomas Osborne of Auburn had steadfastly refused to desert Mr. Shepard, in whose favor alone he is willing to accept second place.

Mr. Havens' friends declared that much of the anti-Shepard talk that was coming from Tammany men was disingenuous and for the purpose of creating the impression that Shepard was not Tammany's candidate, but Havens' managers claimed something over 150 delegates.

It was still anybody's race before the convention met this afternoon. The events scheduled for today were the temporary organization, the speech of Alton B. Parker, the temporary chairman, and the appointment of committees. The first session will open at noon. The committee on credentials has but one contest to decide but it is a lively one. The faction of the Albany county democracy, headed by Robert Whalen, a young attorney, contests two districts in the county, at present controlled by State Committeeman McCabe. The task of turning out a satisfactory platform appears to be giving Edward Shepard and his assistants considerable trouble. The democratic league and the progressive democracy have united in demanding a direct primaries plank broad enough to attract those who are not satisfied with the efforts of the republican convention in this direction and it is expected that the platform committee will carry out these recommendations.

There is discussion about which plank should be the main one. Some platform tinkers declare that the tariff should be held up as the principal issue with the high cost of living as a secondary one. Others favor direct nominations, while a third group wants the party to push forward its denunciation of the "new nationalism" which will be interpreted to mean mainly principles advocated by Theodore Roosevelt. Along with this will be a defense of the supreme court from Colonel Roosevelt's recent attacks.

A steady trend against Shepard developed in the corridor gossip this forenoon. It was sufficiently marked to cause a conference in Mr. Murphy's room, where, it leaked out, that consideration of Supreme Court Justice James Garow, known to be acceptable to Hearst and Martin Glynn of Albany, a friend of the League, was discussed. Meanwhile the corridors resounded with the boom for Herman A. Metz, McClellan's city controller, which was launched by the Brooklyn delegation. Louis Stuyvesant Chandler, former lieutenant governor and nominee of the convention that met here two years ago, and John B. Stanchfield, another former gubernatorial candidate, were among the early arrivals.

Charley White of New York, the well known prize referee, was in charge of seating the delegates.

Shortly before 1 o'clock Mr. Murphy, accompanied by Daniel Colahan and J. Sergeant Cram, arrived.

At 1 o'clock the delegates' seats were full. Secretary John A. Mason of the state committee stepped to his desk on the platform and the convention was ready for work as soon as the chairman arrived.

Called to Order.

Chairman Dix called the convention to order and named Alton B. Parker as temporary chairman.

In a stirring speech Chairman Parker aroused the convention to great enthusiasm.

Attacks Roosevelt's Methods.

At the close of his prepared address Judge Parker laid his manuscript down and launched into a bitter attack on the methods by which Colonel Roosevelt and the progressives dominated the republican convention at Saratoga.

"That convention," said he, "has passed from the hands of an old organization into the hands of a new one. It has passed by the assistance of federal office-holders. Nearly 200 of them contributed to that majority. In vain was an appeal made to President Taft. The appeal was not heard. Think of the disgrace of it. Free men not daring to vote according to their judgment and their conscience because if they did there stood behind them the federal government saying 'must not be forgotten that he who is responsible for this work, a few years ago ostensibly removed, federal office-holders for daring to participate in a political fight.'"

Mr. Parker referred to Colonel Roosevelt as "a usurper of the political control of the state" and called upon the delegates to deprive him of this power at the coming election.

The temporary chairman's speech occupied an hour. After some routine proceedings the convention adjourned until one o'clock Friday afternoon.

HOUSE DESTROYED

Burned to the Ground Early This Morning in North Billerica

A house just over the Chelmsford line in North Billerica was burned about 4:30 o'clock this morning with all its contents except the piano and a parlor suite.

It is known as the Blennerhassett house, the scene of a homicide some years ago when the owner, Mrs. Blennerhassett, shot a man who called at her door late in the night.

After the fire was discovered an effort was made to reach the Billerica fire department by telephone, but without avail. It was five o'clock before the fire department arrived and by that time the house was a smoldering heap of ruins.

The house was occupied by a Mrs. Hill with her father and a relative named Fitzgerald. The estimated loss is $4,000.

Russell Fox carried the insurance on the house owned by Mrs. Letitia Driscoll destroyed by fire in North Billerica this morning.

Fred C. Church carried the insurance on the furniture of Mrs. Margaret Hill, destroyed by fire in North Billerica this morning.

FISHER PEARSON TO STATE PRISON

Feels Confident of Senatorial Nomination

Hon. Fisher H. Pearson was seen by a reporter of The Sun this afternoon as he was taking a car to meet some of the unpledged delegates in the neighboring country. When asked about the contest Mr. Pearson said: "There seems to be an impression abroad that the nomination is all settled by reason of the fact that Mr. Draper led me by two delegates in the city caucuses. It takes 17 votes to nominate. Mr. Draper received 13 delegates in Lowell while I got 11. He needs four and I need six. I think I have the six and feel quite confident that I will be the nominee."

Mr. Draper has emissaries in the country towns interviewing unpledged delegates, and he too is confident that he has a number sufficient to nominate him.

COL. ROOSEVELT IS QUITE WEARIED AFTER HIS HARD FIGHT

HUDSON, N. Y., Sept. 28.—Wearied by his hard fight, Colonel Roosevelt kept to his stateroom on his trip from Saratoga this morning. His only statement was in reference to Rep. J. Sloot Fassett of Elmira, who opposed the colonel in the fight over the direct primaries plank yesterday.

"I know that Mr. Fassett's opposition was not only entirely sincere, but was due to an honest desire to represent the people of his congressional district," said Col. Roosevelt. "I have been intimately associated with the congressman for twenty-five years. He is a straight, clean and decent man, and exceptionally faithful as a public servant and if the opportunity ever comes I shall be glad to speak for him."

Ivory Buzzell Given 15 Years

SKOWHEGAN, Me., Sept. 28.—Fifteen years at hard labor in state prison was the sentence given Ivory Buzzell by Chief Justice Emery in the supreme court today. Buzzell, who was tried yesterday on the charge of murder in causing the death by shooting of his father, John Buzzell, was found guilty of manslaughter last night. He took the sentence calmly and appeared pleased that he did not get the maximum sentence of twenty years. Arrangements were made to take him to Thomaston on the noon or 3 p. m. train.

DRACUT DEMOCRATS

Want Dracut Democratic Candidates for the Legislature

The democrats of Dracut probably through their town committee will request the coming representative convention of the democrats of the 14th district to make an apportionment after that now in vogue with the republicans of the district relative to candidates for the legislature.

In other words they want exclusive opportunity in their turn to nominate a candidate from Dracut believing that a Dracut democrat nominated without opposition in the caucuses and backed by the entire democratic vote of ward one can win. They claim that Dracut is entitled to an even apportionment with ward one, if not an advantage in the apportionment, on the ground that while ward one has not elected a democrat to office except on one occasion when the late James H. Barry was elected to the common council, Dracut annually elects several democrats to office. At the present time the democrats have a democratic chairman of the board of selectmen and a majority of the board; a town clerk, town treasurer and a member of the school board, besides several minor officers. They are confident that a democratic candidate for the legislature from Dracut can succeed the present republican member who also hails from Dracut and who received a second nomination from the republicans this year under the terms of the apportionment.

TOOK HIS LIFE TICKET IS NAMED

Vessel's Quartermaster Jumped Overboard

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—When the White Star liner Cymric arrived from Liverpool today it was learned that the quartermaster of the vessel, James Greene, had committed suicide. Early yesterday morning Greene tied a large piece of lead about his waist and jumped overboard. No reason for his act is known. He has been with the Cymric for 18 years.

Rhode Island Democrats Nominate

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 28.—The democrats of the state met in convention here today and nominated the following ticket without a dissenting vote:

For governor, former State Representative Lewis Waterman of Providence.

For lieutenant governor, Phillip Clark of Newport.

For secretary of state, Alberic Archambault of Warwick.

For attorney general, John I. Dolan of Providence.

For general treasurer, Edmund Walker of Providence.

THOMAS FLYER

MADE FAST TRIP FROM PROVIDENCE TO BOSTON

With the transmission gear box sealed and the intermediate gears removed the Thomas Flyer of the 6-40 pattern, the same chassis which is to be used on the police patrol for this city, passed through Lowell this morning on its way to the White mountains.

The car was started from Buffalo last Thursday morning and the route laid out by the conductors is one of the hilliest and sandiest in the country.

The car runs on its high gear from two to 55 miles an hour, while it takes the steepest hills with apparent ease.

The car arrived in Providence yesterday morning where it was met by Charles S. Henshaw, the Boston agent, and the automobile editor of The Sun.

A speedy trip was made between Providence and Boston and upon arriving at the Hub dinner was served at the Hotel Lenox after which the car made a tour of the town and was sent over Corey's hill, one of the steepest grades in this vicinity. It climbed the hill at better than 30 miles an hour despite the fact that it was on the high gear and there are several bad turns in the road.

The visitors were entertained in Boston last night, and this morning accompanied by Mr. Quimby of the Thomas company, started for the White mountains.

FUNERAL OF CHAVEZ

GREAT TRIBUTE PAID TO THE YOUNG AVIATOR

DOMODOSSOLA, Italy, Sept. 28.—The funeral of George Chavez, the South American aviator who was fatally injured after having accomplished the unprecedented feat of flying from Switzerland over the Alps to Italy, was held today.

The occasion was remarkable in the matter of tributes paid to the courage of the youth. General Springardi, Italian minister of war, sent a special representative and the populace of the town and the surrounding country followed the body to the church. Floral tributes came from all parts of Europe and thousands of peasants tramped down the mountainside with arms filled with mountain flowers. One little girl laid upon the casket a bunch of eider-weiss ribbon, upon which had been written "Gathered among the mountain peaks, over which you flew."

Monsignor Scapardini, bishop of Lima, officiated at the services. The bishop is stopping at Novara and came to Domodossola especially for the purpose.

An autopsy revealed that the aviator's heart was displaced by the shock of the fall when a wing of his airplane collapsed as he was attempting to alight.

POPULATION OF WORCESTER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The population of Worcester, Mass., is 145,986, an increase of 27,955 or 23.3 per cent over 118,031 in 1890.

RAGS ON FIRE

An alarm from box 77 at 1:58 o'clock this morning summoned a portion of the fire department to a slight blaze in the cellar of the building at 100 Prince street belonging to Fred Brookings. The fire started in a pile of rags and Chief Hosmer is of the opinion that it was caused by spontaneous combustion.

supervisors to whom a petition was given, and the petition was referred to the board of supervisors. It was reported by the board of supervisors that the number of pupils would not justify the opening of a primary room.

Several petitions were presented for transfers of pupils from the Washington to the Highland school. It is claimed that on account of poor drainage and absence of sidewalks, the children get their feet wet and sit in school with wet feet. In some cases there were doctors' certificates with the petitions, the certificates stating that the children are delicate and not able to walk the greater distance to the Washington school. In these cases the requests for transfers were granted.

YOUTHFUL HERO

Saved the Life of a Baby

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—Morris Gold, a four-year-old boy, living at 23 Causeway street, gave an alarm at a fire in that house, which probably saved the tenement from destruction yesterday afternoon and also saved the life of Annie Kalivas, an 18-months-old baby. Morris and Anna are cared for by Mrs. Lena Wolf of 23 Causeway street.

Mrs. Wolf went to a store yesterday morning at 11.15 to purchase some goods for the dinner. She left Morris and Anna in charge of the house, and before going out she placed a kettle of water on the gas stove in order that it might be heated when she returned. Little Morris smelled another looked up and saw the walls blazing. He picked up the baby girl in his arms and took her out into the entry, but here his strength failed him and he was obliged to drop her on the floor. He then rushed down the stairs yelling. A passerby heard his cries and going up the stairs rescued Anna.

He then gave the alarm of fire. The damage was slight.

VARNEY WHIST CLUB

Last evening the junior members of the Varney Whist club entertained the seniors in a most delightfully pleasant manner having secured the exclusive use of the Vesper Boat Club house. A very spirited contest on the alleys between the juniors and seniors at bowling was held and for the juniors the highest individual score was made by Willie Cahill of the juniors, and Miss Sally McTeague was the highest of the ladies.

The seniors' highest score was made by John J. Murray; for ladies, Mrs. E. F. Slattery and Mrs. F. X. A. Hurtubise were the highest. Having rolled off the honors went to Mrs. Hurtubise, and she was the recipient of a beautiful souvenir. The prize for the lowest score was won by James Goblin.

After bowling refreshments were served and the party adjourned from the alleys to the dance hall where dancing was indulged in until midnight.

The evening's entertainment was a complimentary affair by the juniors to the seniors of the Varney Whist club, but the occasion was so thoroughly enjoyed that it is the intention of the club to have it repeated within the near future. All agreed that the occasion was one of the most pleasant ever held by the club.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The resignations of Miss Charlotte M. Murkland of the Bartlett school and Miss Mabel H. Hall, teacher of physical culture and elocution in the high school, were accepted.

Leave of absence for one year was granted to Miss Winifred C. Haggerty of the Pond street school, and for six months to Miss Mabel H. Hall of the training school. The leave of absence of Miss Alice B. Besse of the New Moody school was extended, and leave of absence was granted to Frederick Johnston of the supply department for two months, on account of poor health.

On recommendations of the committee on books and supplies it was voted that the principal of the evening drawing school be allowed to incur indebtedness not to exceed $100 for the purpose of supplying the school with things that are necessary.

The committee denied the request of the Knights of Columbus for the use of the high school annex hall for a banquet, on the ground that it would be establishing a bad precedent.

It was voted to authorize the committee on teachers to confer with the board of supervisors as to the advisability of advertising for candidates, and that the committee be given full power.

Enthusiasm of Irish League Convention Exceeds All Bounds

President Ryan Re-elected, With Sec'y O'Callaghan and Treasurer Fitzpatrick—Excursion to Niagara Falls Today

BUFFALO, Sept. 29.—Stirring scenes marked the closing session of the fifth biennial national convention of the United Irish League of America at convention hall last night. Such enthusiasm and open-handed generosity, the leaders declared, never before had marked a similar gathering. In less than an hour $150,000 was raised and assurance was given that if necessary more would be forthcoming to carry the fight for Ireland's freedom to a speedy and final victory.

A second and even more enthusiastic scene occurred just before the close of the session when Michael J. Ryan of Philadelphia consented to a second re-election to the presidency of the league. His consent was withheld until the last moment, and when it was finally given between 500 and 600 delegates jumped upon their seats and yelled as only Irishmen can yell.

The first surprise of the day came when the committee on resolutions reported through its chairman, Dr. P. J. Timmins of Boston, that it had been decided to increase the amount donated for the aid of the cause in Ireland to $150,000, $50,000 more than was

BY MRS. MAE MARYN

R. M. S.: Sallow complexion, liver blotches, pimples and other eruptions of the skin indicate the need of a good blood tonic and liver regulator. To solve one ounce of karoena in one-half pint of alcohol, add one-half cup of water, and enough hot water to make a full quart. Take one tablespoonful five minutes before each meal. Karoena purifies the blood, arouses the appetite and tends to strengthen and build up the entire system.

Annette: The affliction of over-fatness is to be deplored at any age, but it is a positive calamity to a young and pretty woman to become too fat in these days when fashion is so slender. The figure the only correct one. You can reduce your weight almost at the normal rate if you will dissolve one ounce of karoena in one-half pint of alcohol, and take a tablespoonful before each meal. Karoena purifies the blood, arouses the appetite and tends to strengthen and build up the entire system.

Miss H. I.: If you only knew what was in those cheap, greasy cold creams you have been smearing on your face, you would never use them again. They are really harmful. Never use anything but a grassless cream if you don't want hair on your face. At a small expense you can prepare an excellent complexion cream jelly by stirring together one ounce of karoena and one-half pint of cold water. Use this regularly and it will also remove quickly those blackheads and other effects of hot weather, such as freckles, tan and roughness of the skin of which you speak. This is the only reliable cream I have ever found for removing wrinkles without massaging and for reducing the size of large, dirt-collecting pores.

Victoria: Your scalp needs a good, stimulating quinine hair tonic to remove the dandruff, stop irritation and falling hair. Get from any drug store one-half pint of quinine and one ounce of karoena and mix it with one-half pint of water and you will have a much better tonic than any of those ready-prepared tonics you have been buying. Brush your hair daily and twice a week apply this tonic to the scalp rubbing it in gently. This will do wonders for your dull, lifeless, falling hair and put your scalp in healthy condition. This tonic will make your hair soft, silky and lustrous. Keep the scalp clean by frequent washings with karoena and you will not have further trouble with your hair.

Blind S.: Your headaches and generally despondent feeling very likely comes from your weak, inflamed eyes. You should attend to the matter immediately or you may have to wear glasses permanently. Get an ounce of crystals and dissolve it in a pint of water. Put a few drops in each eye two or three times a day and I am sure it will strengthen your eyes wonderfully and remove your eye troubles generally. I find this a splendid remedy and is sure to smart the eyes and is sure for dull, tired, sore eyes that have that overworked feeling.

Mrs. David O.: The only reason why many hair and scalp specialists advise against frequent shampooing is the danger that comes through use of soap the people to John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish people and the pledged-bound party, he has met with matchless skill, winning victories unparalleled by any man who has led our people, the sum of $150,000; and it pledges the membership of Irish America to raise that sum within one year from this date.

Missouri Starts With $5000
"That we gratefully recognize and heartily appreciate the increasing evidences of the friendly interest and co-operation of various other organizations of the Irish race in America in the special work to which the United Irish League of America has devoted itself, we will welcome all such assistance from the friends of Irish liberty and on behalf of this organization we shall do everything in our power to foster and promote and encourage this glorious harmony and unification of Ireland's friends in America."

No time was lost in getting down to the practical work of raising the fund. John P. Leahy of St. Louis was on his feet in a moment with the announcement that Missouri would come to the front with $5000, of which he paid $500 on the spot.

President Ryan announced that Montreal had pledged $10,000 and Michael E. Corbley of New York pledged the Irishmen in the borough of Manhattan for $20,000. The announcements were greeted with cheers which were revived when John J. Joyce, another New York delegate, said that two-thirds of New York's contribution would be ready in time for the January elections.

Boston Adds $10,000 Pledge
Joseph E. Gavin of Buffalo pledged $2000 for this city, later raising it to $2500 when James E. Dolan of Syracuse named a like amount for his home city. Albany gave $2000, John J. Connor of Brooklyn pledged $3000, the city of Chicago, John P. Lee of Orange, N. J., $5000, Fr. Price $1500 for Pittsburg, and Baltimore, $2000.

Michael H. Houke, representing the Lowell branch of the league, pledged $1000 for Lowell in the next two years.

The announcement of these big sums from cities and states aroused great enthusiasm, but it was nothing compared with the demonstration given when Dennis J. Hanlon, president of the board of Erin, Ancient Order of Hibernians, said his organization would give the Irish parliamentary party $1000. This evidence of good will among all organizations of Irishmen has been one of the notable features of this gathering.

Massachusetts pledged $20,000 through Thomas B. Fitzpatrick and Pennsylvania a like sum through Michael Donahue.

Major Buckley of Chicago said that city would come in with $10,000.

There were many individual subscriptions of $1000, including Thomas Riley of Philadelphia, Hugh McCaffery of Philadelphia, M. T. Malone, attorney general of Illinois.

"Savina Davitt $500"
Pledges of from $100 to $500 poured in upon the secretary from organizations and individuals from many states.

Canada was heard from again when a Toronto delegate pledged that city for $2000, one-half of which he said was ready to hand over to the nationalist board.

Every delegate in the hall caught the enthusiasm of the spirit and many of them, doubled and trebled their original subscriptions as the fund mounted to and passed the $100,000 mark.

Many who gave on Tuesday night duplicated their contributions. "Savina Davitt $5" was an announcement that brought a great cheer. Miss Davitt is a sister of Michael Davitt. Her home is in Washington, D.C.

"The most blessed contribution of the day," said Pres. Ryan at the convention stood for several moments in silence as a mark of respect.

The final total was $151,920. "I am deeply moved," said Pres. Ryan, "at these evidences of self-sacrifice and self-denial, for I know as well as you know that every dollar we give to this holy cause means just that to many of you and to your families."

Bostonians Re-elected
Michael J. Ryan of Philadelphia was elected president of the league. He had withheld his consent until the last moment and when it was finally given he received an ovation.

John O'Callaghan of Boston, national secretary, and Thomas B. Fitzpatrick of Boston, national treasurer, were also re-elected by a unanimous vote. The following vice-presidents were elected:

William Temple Emmet of New York, Michael E. Smith, St. Louis, Charles F. Cook, Chicago, Patrick Martin, Baltimore, John Fitzpatrick, New Orleans and Hugh McCaffery, Philadelphia.

John E. Redmond paid a tribute to Pres. Ryan and renewed his declaration that self-government for the Irish race was never nearer than it is today.

Today the delegates, about 1500 in all, will be the guests of the city of

STRUCK BY AUTO

Haverhill Man Was Badly Injured

HAVERHILL, Sept. 29.—The police are searching for the occupant of an automobile that struck Geo. W. Goddard on Main street in the Bradford district yesterday noon.

Goddard was crossing the street just as a big touring car came along. He did not see the machine and the driver of the automobile did not see Goddard until he struck him. Goddard was thrown about 20 feet, being rendered unconscious and his face and head battered. The automobile driver stopped his machine after striking Goddard, but disappeared as soon as a crowd collected.

Goddard was removed to his home on Merrimac street and his first inquiry when he regained consciousness was what struck him and whether he hurt the automobile.

Information of this important change in the conduct of the Holy Ghost and Us society was brought here yesterday by Wabby Joseph, the Chicago Syrian, who recently succeeded in prevailing upon his sister to forsake the Holy Ghost society.

Wabby Joseph came here to see Joseph Harriman, son of Rev. N. H. Harriman.

Joseph Harriman and Wabby Joseph were formerly coworkers in the Shiloh cause in Jerusalem. Since Mr. Joseph left he has heard but little of his friend, and at the request of Harriman's father he came to Shiloh to endeavor to persuade the young man to leave Shiloh.

Mr. Joseph was admitted to Olivette, one of the Shiloh buildings, where he had to wait an hour before he saw his friend. As soon as Mr. Joseph stated his mission Mr. Harriman refused to talk, and told him that any further communication would have to be made through Rev. A. A. Whitaker, who is at present in charge at Shiloh.

Mr. Joseph then went to Lewiston, where he saw George Barton, whose son, Victor Barton, died in Jerusalem some time ago.

Victor Barton was in love with a Canadian girl, Margaret May, who was one of the members of the Shiloh colony at Jerusalem, Mr. Joseph says.

Rev. Mr. Sandford disapproved of their attachment, he stated, and ordered Barton to be confined and to fast for seven days.

Mr. Joseph went to Brunswick after leaving Lewiston and there called on T. Albert Field, a former member of the community. Mr. Joseph told Mr. Field that his sister related many stories of hardship and suffering while the Shilohites were stranded on Mud Island.

Mr. Joseph also told of the future plans of Mr. Sandford, which he had learned from his sister and other members of the community, with whom he had talked. Mr. Sandford, he declared, is tired of being chased by sheriffs and therefore decided to sell the buildings in Shiloh in Durham and move the entire colony to an island.

Rev. Mr. Sandford's whereabouts are still unknown, except to his closest advisers. Mrs. Sandford, who has been with her husband, arrived at Shiloh several days ago, but refuses to talk about her husband or his whereabouts.

Resolutions of regret at the death of Henry J. Tolles of Dunstable, a former president; E. C. Farwell, of Reading, and Arthur H. Cluer, of Lowell, a former president, were adopted. John A. Weinbeck, treasurer, read his annual report, the main items of which were: Total expenditures during the past year, $927.07; money due on mortgages, $4412; and total receipts during the past year, $1312.23. The special committee on membership gave a report of progress. Readings were given by Master Raymond Wilde and Miss Pickles of Wiggville. Dinner was served at 12.15.

BOARD OF HEALTH TODAY'S STOCK MARKET

Replies to the Communication of the Water Board

The board of health and the water board are exchanging pleasantries. The board of health sent a letter to the water board requesting the water board to change the existing ordinance so that in case of the non-payment of water bills it would not be necessary to shut off the water. The controversy between the two boards was occasioned by the shutting off of the city water from tenement property in Front street. It was alleged that the tenants after the city water was shut off used Merimack river water for domestic purposes. The letter addressed to the water board by the board of health was placed on file by the water board on Tuesday night, and the board of health seems a bit "dithered" because the water board did not take more notice of the communication.

Drs. Martin and Huntress of the board of health met at the board's headquarters at city hall this morning and prepared the following statement for the press:

Sept. 28th, 1910.
The board of health this morning received the following communication from the water board in answer to a letter sent to September 27th concerning the shutting off of water in some tenements in Front street:—
"Office of the Water Board, Lowell, Mass.

Sept. 28th, 1910.
G. Forrest Martin, M. D., Chairman,
Leonard Huntress, M. D.,
Lowell Board of Health,
Lowell, Mass.

Gentlemen:—
Yours of the 27th in relation to shutting off the city water from tenement property in Front street, and advising the water board to take action to change the ordinance, was duly received and presented to the water board at its meeting last evening, and ordered placed on file.

Yours truly,
J. W. Crawford,
Secretary."

The board of health also read the

LODGE'S MAN LOST

Ames Candidate for Senator Won a Decisive Victory

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—State Senator Arthur L. Nason of Haverhill, sworn enemy of the republican state machine and bitter opponent of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, swept the republican primaries in the fourth Essex district yesterday. Nason, favors Congressman Butler Ames for United States senator. So decisive was the defeat administered to W. Scott Peters, drafted from the office of district attorney on account of his personal popularity and political prestige, that Nason's followers were claiming last night that Peters would not have a solitary vote in the convention to nominate the senator from the district.

Strong Opposition

Ever since Nason led a victorious fight against J. Otis Wardwell, which deposed that veteran from the state committee and put J. Franklin Hatchelder in his place, the republican state machine has been determined to "get" Nason.

In selecting Peters to lead the fight against him they believed that they had drafted the strongest Lodge supporter in the district, but Nason, with newspapers and the committee against him, has shown once more that the fourth Essex is an insurgent district and that the Lodge sentiment there is more than weak.

An anti-Lodge republican was chosen by Lynn voters to represent one of the Essex districts in the house, but most of the other victories went to the Lodge forces.

Frank P. Bennett, Jr., of Saugus, who was opposed in a bitter fight by James

W. Killam of Reading, an Ames adherent, succeeded in getting a re-nomination to the senate from the seventh Middlesex district.

Bennett published a letter a few days ago, which, he said, had been stolen from his office and which he said Killam was circulating through the district with intent to make the voters believe that he had gained advertising for a paper of his brother's for aiding a corporation on Beacon hill. He denied that the advertising had anything to do with what he had done, but the publication of the letter caused widespread comment. Bennett, however, was returned easily although much of the district is in Ames territory.

In the fourth congressional district Pierce has apparently defeated Wilder for the republican nomination, having 77 delegates to 72 for Wilder.

The general feeling of insurgency that has been manifest in all the elections this year cropped up even in the Berkshires, where Senator William Turtile, one of the veterans at the state house, was opposed for renomination by Homer A. Hall of North Adams. At midnight both candidates were claiming victory and the returns were so close that even prejudiced observers were unable to pick the winner.

The returns were so late that Senator J. Howell Crosby of Arlington said at midnight that he had no idea whether he had been returned or defeated. At midnight it looked as though most of the contests would not be decided until today.

SCHOOL ALUMNI

To be Formed in Sacred Heart Parish

Scores of former pupils of the Sacred Heart school met at the school hall in Moore street last night for the purpose of making arrangements for the formation of an alumni association.

Rev. Sister Joseph, the first superior of the school, was present at the meeting and given a cordial reception. Following this there was an informal reception at which Rev. Sister Joseph spoke, recalling some of the early days at the school. Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., also gave words of hearty welcome to those present and pointed out the advantages of an alumni association.

Rev. Fr. Flynn spoke, whereupon Rev. Fr. McDermott, a former pupil, was chosen chairman. When the registration of the meeting had been completed, it was voted to adjourn to, next Friday night at 7.30 o'clock, when it is hoped a still larger number will be present. All former pupils, whether graduates or not, are cordially invited to be present.

NAVY RECORDS

Men Remembered for Their Heroism

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—For heroic action after the oil tank explosion aboard the battleship North Dakota on Sept. 8, when three men were killed and many injured, appropriate recognition by the government was made yesterday of 10 members of the crew of that vessel through Acting Secretary of the Navy Winthrop.

John J. Quinnan, of Charlestown, Mass., and George F. Ellis of Mansfield, Mass., water-tenders, were warmly commended; Charles Roberts, of Boston, first class machinist mate, was awarded a medal of honor and a gratuity of $100.

Quinnan, Ellis and two others entering a fire hose from the boiler room, that the hose had to be played on them, and drew all fires in the furnaces there. The other six drew the fires in another room while the oil was burning on top of a boiler, taking all the precautions to prevent a boiler explosion, and assisted in carrying out corpses in water, waist-deep, dense smoke, heat and fumes. Roberts was overcome by fumes and gases.

FIRE PROTECTION

FOR THE FORESTS ADVOCATED AMONG PRIVATE OWNERS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—One of the lessons which will finally be drawn from the trying experience of the present forest fire season, in the belief of officials of the United States department of agriculture, is the need of wider organization among private owners of timber to safeguard their holdings.

It is pointed out that already in the northwest, both on the Pacific coast and in Montana and Idaho, timberland owners have formed themselves into associations which assess the members on an acreage basis and thus meet the cost of maintaining a regular patrol and fire-fighting organization. Only by getting together can private owners usually assure themselves protection, for fire is no respecter of boundary lines and the man who undertakes to keep it out of his own timber will find it kept out of his neighbor's too. Wherever possible the government's forest officers cooperate with the force put in the field by the associations, so that the employees of the government and those of the private owners are handled practically as a unit in fighting the common enemy.

This cooperation is advantageous to both sides. Protection of the National forests necessarily carries with it a good deal of protection of adjoining interior holdings. If the private owners would ever who's shoulder their reasonable share of the burden, the public would gain both through more general forest conservation and through relief from the necessity of paying for the protection of private timber in order to protect its own.

In Fight Between Berlin Police and Coal Strikers

BERLIN, Sept. 29.—It was officially reported today that 73 persons were wounded severely during the conflicts between the coal strikers and the police in the Moabit district last night. Today quiet prevails. As usual nearly all of the hundreds who were arrested were released later on their own recognizance. Twelve alleged ringleaders were held.

ARTESIAN WELL

Being Driven by Cudahy Packing Company

The Cudahy Packing company has started to drive an artesian well in the rear of its building in Market street, the work being done by Royers, Barker and company of Providence, R. I., who have the contract to drive these wells for the Cudahy people at all their plants. The work of driving the well was begun on Monday and no water has been struck as yet though the drivers have gone down 70 feet into the earth. It is expected that water will be struck at a depth of 100 feet. The Cudahy concern pays the city of Lowell $400 per year for water alone and believes that it can save money in the long run by having its own well. The water is used principally in the manufacture of ice, for while it is not generally known the plant operates its own ice plant. The company requires 30 gallons of water per minute and the proposed well will be called upon to supply that amount. Mr. Connell, the engineer for the concern, is of the opinion that the well eventually will be in the vicinity of 160 ft. deep. Long ago a well was driven in the boiler house of the Stevens heirs in the passageway between Market and Middle streets, only a few feet away from where the new well is being driven. The old well produced water which passed a fine analysis, at a depth of about 25 feet. This water was so good that it was used for drinking purposes by tenants of the Stevens buildings. Some years ago, however, the sewer backed up and flooded the well and since that time the water has never been used. The engineers believe that good water will be struck on the site now being driven.

PLANS MADE

FOR NEW CAPITALIZATION OF CONNECTICUT COMPANY

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 29.—The plans for making the Connecticut company stand in a new relation to the controlling New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad corporation provide for new capitalization of the former company based on its bonded debt and advances for improvements. The bonded debt, including a debt of about $100,000 in bonds of the parent company amounts to about $27,000,000 and advances to $9,000,000 more, the direct bonded debt being made up of underlying mortgage bonds. There will also be provision made for trolley extensions and improvements.

In the new plan the parent and controlling company takes over absolutely all the Connecticut company's obligations, paying them as they mature from the steam corporation's resources, this ultimately leaving the Connecticut company free from debt, the former being compensated by dividends on the controlled company's shares practically all of which will be in the New Haven company's treasury.

The Connecticut company as thus re-financed owns or controls about 80 per cent. of the trolleys of the state of Connecticut and about 30 per cent. of their gross receipts amounting in the last annual report to $7,443,811 which figure has been steadily increased in the fiscal year of 1909-10.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—George W. Patten, the millionaire grain operator who died last night of tuberculosis at the home of his brother, James Patten, in Evanston, left a fortune estimated at $5,000,000, the greater part of which, it is said, will be left to public charities, including a large donation for the furtherance of the anti-tuberculosis campaign.

Though relatives have tried to conceal from him the belief that he was dying, it had been known for months that he was suffering from tuberculosis and that there was no hope of recovery. He spent eight years in Colorado fighting against the malady.

Two weeks ago an announcement was made that Mr. Patten had created a fund of $500,000 known as the Agnes and Louise Patten fund for the advancement of the Evanston hospital, an institution in which the two brothers took a great interest.

WALKING STUNT

"Mike" O'Connell Beats It Down Andover St.

How long a walk is it from the corner of Nesmith and Andover streets to the public scales at the junction of the roads near the entrance to the Long Meadow golf links?

It took Mike O'Connell, the well known pedestrian of the Y. M. C. I., just 17 minutes and 30 seconds to find out how long a walk it is, last evening when he set out to make the distance in 15 minutes on a bet of the supper with Peter Rogers.

O'Connell bet that he could negotiate the distance in 15 minutes and Rogers bet he couldn't, and allowed him to have Paul McOsker, who possesses the longest pair of limbs in the Y. M. C. I., for pace-maker. Ex-President William King of the Y. M. C. I. was chosen referee and time-keeper and Frank McCone officiated as runner-up. A crowd of about 25 enthusiasts followed O'Connell on his way through an Andover street car which passed before half the distance had been traversed not most of them.

As they passed the Butman road a strong contrary wind was encountered and Mr. O'Connell stated that he hadn't figured on the wind when he made the bet though he gamely stuck it out. According to the referee's watch he made the distance in 17 minutes and 30 seconds, 30 seconds behind his bet.

Several of the party averred that they could make the distance in 15 minutes and from the discussion that followed it is probable that the Y. M. C. I. will go in for pedestrianism this fall and will start by making the Andover street walk.

BOSTON TOURISTS

Say They Were Held Up by
Brigands in Italy

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Robert A. Bolt of Boston, who arrived here yesterday with Mrs. Bolt and their daughter, Miss Alice Bolt, on board the Oceanic, of the White Star line, told how he and his family and two relatives were held up by masked robbers on July 10 last, in a lovely road in Tuscany.

The robbers, not satisfied with $50 they found, sent Mrs. Bolt to a nearby villa for $2500 more.

If it had not been for the ready wit of Mrs. Bolt, whose example was followed by the other two women in the group, the robbers would have seized a considerable amount of jewelry. But on the appearance of the robbers Mrs. Bolt drew off her rings and dropped them under the seat of the automobile in which she and her relatives were riding. Her daughter and niece quickly did likewise.

Mr. and Mrs. Bolt and their daughter joined Mr. Bolt's brother, Mr. Edward Bolt, and his niece, Miss Patten, early last July at the Villa Certini, at Volturno, in Tuscany. They were returning from an automobile ride at dusk July 10 last, and were within a mile of the villa when they found their way barred at a turn of the road by a pile of stones and brick.

As the car was brought to a stop by the chauffeur two masked men jumped from the bushes by the roadside, one carrying a revolver and the other a rifle. When the robbers had received the cash and found that the women apparently had no jewelry they demanded that more money be obtained.

Mr. Bolt and his brother persuaded the robbers to allow the women to be taken in the car by the chauffeur back to the villa. As soon as they had gone Mr. Bolt and his brother, with the weapons levelled at their heads, were forced to walk into the forest a short distance from the road.

Mrs. Bolt and the chauffeur returned in half an hour with $250, which she handed over without a word. The robbers then fled. At the villa, Mrs. Bolt had found thirty men servants and farm hands within call, but she feared to do this, lest any attempt to drive off the robbers should result in loss of life.

"Within a few minutes after the robbers disappeared," Mr. Bolt said yesterday, "servants from the villa came up. They searched the woods until late at night, but without result. The matter was taken up by the Italian authorities, who offered a reward for the capture of the banditti."

Mr. and Mrs. Bolt and Miss Bolt went to the Hotel Belmont and will go within a few days to Boston.

Robert A. Bolt is a member of an insurance firm on Kilby street. His brother, Edward D. Bolt, is one of Boston's prominent architects.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Wright Lorimer, clad in the leopard skin and wearing the staff and sling of the shepherd boy, David, is presenting his romantic drama, "The Shepherd King," at the Opera House all this week.

He brings with him an excellent company of players and the usual wealth of scenic effects and costumes for which this production has been noted in the past. "The Shepherd King" does not appear to diminish in popularity as the years roll on, but seems to gain a stronger hold on the public on the occasion of each succeeding visit. The reverent treatment of the life story of David, one of the most lovable of all the heroic characters of the old testament, has made the play a favorite with the church-going people who are not regular patrons of the theatre and there are enough points of excellence in the performance to interest all regular habitués of the playhouse. Mr. Wm. A. Brady, who is managing the tour of Mr. Lorimer, promises that this engagement will be a notable one in the history of the play, both on an acting and a scenic standpoint.

THOS. A. WISE

Plays may come and plays may go, but that great American comedy, "A Gentleman from Mississippi," which patrons of the Opera House will see soon, is one of those plays that once seen is never forgotten. Though now in its third year of phenomenal success, it is still playing everywhere in crowded houses and achieving that just meed of recognition which it deserves. Manager Wm. A. Brady, in support of his star, Thos. A. Wise, in his now famous role of Senator Langdon, will send the entire company that appeared during the memorable sixteen week's run at the Park theatre, Boston, last season.

FRANK DANIELS

The Shuberts have always had more or less success in adapting English musical comedies. "A Chinese Honeymoon," which ran for a year at the New York Casino, is a case in point; then came "Havana." Their most recent success was "The Belle of Brittany," which they had adapted for this country for the use of Frank Daniels. The piece had much vogue in New York and the Shuberts are now sending it to this city where it will be seen.

Mr. Daniels has also been supplied with a number of very fetching songs. It seems a pity to add that he has "them over." He leads off with "I Must Go Home To-night," and quickly follows with "The Old Chateau" and "Sing to Your Dear One."

THE BLUE MOUSE
Clyde Fitch, the playwright, has turned naturalist. While in Germany he captured a mischievous but somewhat tame mouse. The habits of this strange yet amusing rodent were none too good. But once landed in New York, Mr. Fitch scrubbed the tiny beast, when, behold, it shone a delicate blue. With the playwright as preceptor, the rodent's habits also changed and now, as the American "Blue Mouse," E. J. Carpenter will exhibit him as the purest example of an A1 1910-11 sensation.

Being a playwright, Clyde Fitch naturally made an actor, or rather actress out of the mouse and he has named his latest play "The Blue Mouse," which, of course, is a farce as it could be nothing but a joke to turn an animal into a play. It is this "Blue Mouse," harmless but extremely funny, that comes to the opera house, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 7 and 8, when that dainty little actress, Wanda Ludlow, will be seen as the same "Blue Mouse," for one must have already guessed that a rodent can't act.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
A real hit, that is what the Heidelberg Four has made at the new Merrimack Square theatre, just round the corner in Taige street, this week. A male quartet as good as the Heidelberg Four has been put in an appearance in Lowell for good long time, so says the general verdict. The Four's repertoire includes all the latest and most tuneful songs, with one or two of the old favorites as a proper background.

Then there is the Scenic Stock company presenting that strong one act play, "Dr. George." The play is full of tense moments and has a climax which strikes home its lesson with the force of a blow. The play has a strong original plot which is bound to hold the attention.

Other numbers on the bill which are highly entertaining are Murphy and Andrews in a character sketch, George S. Lauder the Australian ventriloquist and the Kolo Trio of acrobats.

A continuous performance presented daily from 1 until 10.30 o'clock. Admission is 10 cents with a few reserved seats at 25 cents, including the price of admission. Matinee except Saturdays and holidays, are 10 cents.

Vorous today, "The Sargent" taken in Yellowstone Park and "An Unselfish Love" taken in the Canadian Northwest. The former is a stirring military picture with a thrilling story of an Indian uprising and deeds of bravery by the hero of the story. It is a logical story staged amid the magnificent scenery of America's greatest park.

"Unselfish Love" tells how a maiden lady sacrifices her unrequited love for a young gentleman who is farming in the Canadian northwest in order that he may be happy with his eastern sweetheart. The comedies are of interest and the songs are just what

HATHAWAY THEATRE
A complete musical comedy, chorus, scenery and comedians, is "Tom Walker on Mars," which is headlined at Hathaway's, this week. The little piece is replete with laughter, through the presence of John B. Hyman, an excellent comedian in the leading role. There are 15 people in the company.

Helen Royton in "Alias Irish Tessie" scores a distinct hit, and the other good acts on the bill are: Maximo, slack wire performer; Mamie Harbush, in songs and stories; Wolf Moore and Young dancers; Jimmy Dolarty, singing comedian; Sanson and Della, sensational jugglers, and the Hathaway scope.

Performances will be given every afternoon and evening during the remainder of the week.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC
There is an entirely new show at the Academy today, including Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wyatt in a comedy sketch, "The Unexpected." BARSTOW Bay State Ranges

If you want a range which will never disappoint you; one in which you can be sure of obtaining the best cooking results; one from which you can take your batch of bread browned "just right" you ought to use this range. If you want to cut down your coal bills and want a range that embodies all the very latest features, this is the range you should have in your kitchen.

Here Are Some of the Exclusive Features Found on These Ranges

- New Swing Fire Top: Makes entire surface of fire available for broiling or toasting. Also enables an even and easy distribution of coal or the use of large chunks of wood. No other range has this feature.
- Simplex Dampers: Works with a touch—almost automatic. Cannot be burned out or affected by heat.
- Three Styles of Grates: Adapted to any style of frame. Grate and frame freely drawn out through the fire door opening for cleaning or renewing.
- Patented Extension Tea Shelves: Found only on our ranges—give ample space for large dishes.
- An Aluminum Plated Oven Rack: Adjustable at two heights. A simple locking device keeps this rack in rigid position when needed all the way out.
- A Model Heat Indicator: Of scientific construction and a Twentieth Century Smothering Cover set free with each range.

You will find the Gas Shelf handy for all the hurry-up work of boiling or toasting, day or night.

KILLAM IS DOWNED

Senator Bennett Frazzled the Ames Senatorial Candidate

All the caucuses have been held and while we don't know as yet whether Butler Ames is going to be a United States senator or not, we do know that the claims of the Lodge forces relative to the comparative strength of the candidates is woefully in need of revision. Congressman Ames' secretary, Mr. Legare, said last evening that the colonel was well satisfied with the results of the caucuses, and if he is, there must be a reason. The Ames people bank upon getting about all of the democratic members in both houses but in the event of the democratic making big gains on election day, which is not at all improbable there will be a democratic candidate for United States senator in the field. If there is no chance whatever for a democrat then the democrats may go over to Ames. But Congressman Ames fared better in the republican caucuses than the Lodge people would give him credit for. In Lowell every candidate nominated by the republicans is an Ames supporter. In Haverhill Senator Arthur L. Nelson, an Ames man, won a decisive victory over Scott Peters, the Lodge candidate.

The result was amusing to the disinterested observer in the seventh senatorial district, known as the "shoe string" district. In this district Senator Bennett of Saugus, an avowed Lodge supporter, signally defeated James L. Killam of Reading, going so far as to carry Reading, Mr. Killam's home town. The only showing made by Killam was in wards five and nine of Lowell, where after personal canvassing by both sides Killam carried both wards, getting five delegates. He also carried Wilmington, but Bennett landed everything else except Billerica, with one unpledged delegate, and Tewksbury. Congressman Ames' home town, with two delegates. Carlisle also elected an unpledged delegate. Senator Bennett gets 27 pledged delegates. Mr. Killam six, while four are unpledged. The Ames forces worked hard for Killam but without success. They gave but little attention to the contest in Haverhill and their man won by a big majority. Such is politics.

Eighth Senatorial District
As most of the towns in the eighth senatorial district sent unpledged delegates to the convention, Messrs. Pearson and Draper are hustling among the suburbanites with the result in doubt. In the city Mr. Draper had 13 delegates with 11 for Mr. Pearson, making the situation close.

On the republican side Senator Hubbard not only swept the city but made good in most of the towns.

The Congressional Situation
Edward L. Tierney, who handled Col. Carmichael's campaign, stated last evening that a canvass of the district gives Col. Carmichael 40 delegates, or several more than the number necessary for a choice. He states further that Chelmsford which elected two delegates pledged to Mr. Casey is entitled to but one delegate under the apportionment.

Congressman-elect McGillicuddy

home town. The only showing made by Killam was in wards five and nine of Lowell, where after personal canvassing by both sides Killam carried both wards, getting five delegates. He also carried Wilmington, but Bennett landed everything else except Billerica, with one unpledged delegate, and Tewksbury. Congressman Ames' home town, with two delegates. THE FALL EXHIBIT

At the New York Cloak and Suit Store

The New York Cloak and Suit Store was the mecca of hundreds of feminine visitors yesterday. Bent on viewing the delightful fall exhibit offered by that most progressive of shops. The visitors repaid all fastidious women wishing to learn "what the styles are going to be this fall—the great question of the hour. The store is delightfully stocked with styles smart, sensible, striking and serviceable.

In the most modish cuts and latest colors, are of course the chief feature of the vast stock, but besides these smart garments, there is an infinity of attractive things for morning, afternoon and evening wear. There is an endless choice of delicious little dancing frocks with smart, short hobbles, skirts, and showing all the delicate pastel tints in chiffon, embroidered, tulle, nets, silk, etc. Among other evening gowns shown, a particularly beautiful one, exhibited in a window, is of corn and blue silk and chiffon, with split pearls woven into the fabric.

In other dressy gowns, the delightful Persian designs are very prominent and the soft lustrous satins covered with chiffon, furnishing particularly lovely effects for afternoon wear. The petticoats and waists also show this Persian effect in great degree.

In contrast to these "fluffy fluff" things, come the plain, smart legs for the auto. No motor enthusiast, no matter how far she may wish to "mote," need go farther for her auto wardrobe. Many of these smart, severe effects are now secured, by the way, from Berlin, whose styles are becoming quite popular with the American buying public.

The Fur department is another feature of the New York Store well worthy of notice. It offers an infinite variety of choice, and inspection of its treasures is a delight. Fur coats of every description for you, ranging from $50 to $600, and an endless array of stoles and muffs in every kind and quality of fur. The ringtail fur, which you must go and see, by the way, is the great novelty of the hour, the latest shriek.

For the opening, the great shop is tastefully decorated with autumn leaves, grapes, and poppies, the effect being most attractive.

SENT TO PRISON

Mafia Agent Was Given Six Years

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—Patsy Mote, said to be an agent of the Mafia, for making a sudden and unprovoked attempt to kill Alberto Mastrollo of 41 Frankfurt street, East Boston, early in the morning of Aug. 4, in East Boston, at Orleans and Maverick streets, was yesterday sentenced by Justice Jenney, in the superior criminal court, to from six to ten years in state prison.

The case has puzzled the police and the district attorney's office. No motive can be discovered. All that can be gleaned is that Mastrollo was marked by the Mafia, that he was trapped, and that the blow fell and failed. The man chosen to do the deed is a young immigrant, only 18 years old.

Mastrollo was attacked by Mote in the morning, between 4:45 and 5:30. Having lured his horse to his wagon to drive to Beverly, he stopped at Maverick and Orleans streets to buy a sandwich.

Coming out of the store he was approached by Patsy Mote, whom he did not know and had never seen before. Mote said: "Will you please read this card for me?" Mastrollo took the card and held it close to his eyes as the writing was indistinct. Mote at once stepped behind him, and drew a knife along the left side of his victim's face and neck. Mote then fled, followed by Mastrollo and a rapidly-growing crowd, and ran into the arms of Officer Hickey.

The card handed by Mote to Mastrollo was an ordinary business card of a jewelry concern in Boston. It bore on its back in Italian the almost undecipherable legend, "You go to Fleet street—12 o'clock—because." Some word follows which the best efforts of court interpreters have failed to translate.

One end of the card to a depth of about three-quarters of an inch had been torn off, which lends some who have studied the case to believe that Mote was one of a number who drew to see who should attack Mastrollo.

The scant evidence showed that the attempted murder was concocted at some place on Fleet street.

PERSONALS

Mrs. M. J. Cahill of High street, this city, who with her sister, Mrs. John Harlan of Buffalo, N. Y., has been visiting her son, Dr. E. A. Cahill, at his home in Canonsburg, Pa., is at the present time spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. E. Pratt of Rochester, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Michael, Jr. of Sacramento, Cal., are the guests of their cousin, Mrs. William F. McAlone of High street. Mrs. Michael is the daughter of Mr. Matthew J. Flynn, a former Lowell resident who left this city for the west many years ago and now holds a very responsible position with the Southern Pacific road. Mr. Flynn is a brother of James Flynn of Cedar street, and Mrs. John O'Connell and Mrs. Moloney also of this city.

ARRESTED IN E. PROVIDENCE
BROCKTON, Sept. 29.—Arthur E. Lincoln, aged 23, of Tanton, was arrested in East Providence yesterday for Brockton officers on a charge of larceny of a horse, harness and carriage. The outfit was secured at Cushing Bros. stable at midnight and yesterday the stable was notified that the rig would be returned within two hours. The owners became suspicious and Officer P. Joseph McCarthy was sent to East Providence, reaching there just as Lincoln was attempting to sell the outfit, he says. Lincoln was placed under arrest and brought to Brockton yesterday. He said he had recently lost $3000 through stock speculation in Providence.

IN POLICE COURT

Tuberculosis Patients Skipped From Tewksbury

This morning's session of the police court was a comparatively short one, there being but few offenders in the dock. Some of those in the glided cage were old offenders, but Judge Hadley was inclined to be lenient with them. The trial of the case of John Therien, charged with being drunk, took up more than half of the brief session.

John is so deaf that the only thing to use while talking with him is a megaphone. He denied that he was drunk, but Patrolmen Ganley and Castles testified that they found him and another man in a house in Fletcher street. There was a pitcher of beer on the table.

able and plenty of evidence that the occupants of the house had been drinking. Therien's condition was such that the court deemed it advisable to send him to jail for ten days.

Thomas Guthrie and Patrick Kirby are inmates of the tuberculosis camp at the state infirmary at Tewksbury, but yesterday decided that they would pay a visit to Lowell and taking "French leave" from the camp came to Lowell and fell in with a number of their friends. Of course the friends were glad to see Tom and Patrick and an informal reception was held in one of the thirteenth extinguishing parlors with the result that the escaped patients were placed under arrest. In court this morning they signified a desire to go back to the farm and the court allowed them to do so.

Andrew Touchette was found guilty of being drunk and was sentenced to 14 days in jail.

The case of George Rapson, charged with threatening, was continued for one week.

Several first offenders were fined $2 each and three simple drunks were released.

Deposits made on or before Saturday, October 1st, in the Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank draw interest on that date.

STIMSON NOMINATED

Roosevelt Picks Sugar Trust Prosecutor to Head Ticket in N. Y.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 29.—The republican state convention last evening nominated Henry L. Stimson of New York as its candidate for governor. The nomination of Mr. Stimson was one more victory for Col. Theodore Roosevelt, who personally led the fight for the nomination of his candidate, completing the unbroken series of triumphs from the moment the convention was called to order Tuesday afternoon until its final adjournment.

The vote for governor stood as follows: Henry L. Stimson, 664; William E. Bennett of New York, 242; Thomas E. Dwan of Albany, 28; scattering, 23.

The state was made up yesterday morning by Col. Roosevelt, Senator Root and their advisers, went through without a hitch. With the exception of the nominations for governor and comptroller, there were no contests. Representative Bennett, who had been conducting the only open campaign for the nomination for governor, kept up his efforts to the end, and his persistence and strength with the New York delegation threatened to break the state.

To Stump State
It is said that Colonel Roosevelt will stump the state for the ticket. He is reported to have said yesterday that he would do so.

At the close of the convention James R. Wadsworth, Jr., speaker of the assembly, announced his withdrawal from the legislature. The speaker made this statement:
"I have definitely determined not to be a candidate for re-election to the assembly. This determination was reached by me some time ago and is due entirely to my personal views as to the length of time during which a member of assembly should be a candidate for speaker and, if successful, hold that important and difficult office. I have been speaker of the assembly for five years. This decision must not be taken to indicate that I am not a candidate for any other office; I am not. I shall, of course, continue to take an active interest in the welfare of the republic and with that object in view, I have accepted membership in the republican state committee."

Mr. Wadsworth had nothing to add to his statement and would not say that his retirement was due to the victory of the progressives of the convention.

The close of the convention found the Roosevelt forces in complete control of the situation. It was the election of Colonel Roosevelt as temporary chairman yesterday, over Vice President Sherman, which decided the issue between the colonel and the organization, but the old guard kept up its opposition grimly until the end.

The ticket nominated is as follows:

New York Republican Ticket
For governor, Henry L. Stimson of New York.
For lieutenant governor, Edward Schoenbeck of Syracuse.
For secretary of state, Samuel S. Koenig of Buffalo (renominated).
For state comptroller, James Thompson of Valley Falls.
For state treasurer, Thomas F. Fenell of Elmira.
For state engineer, Frank M. Williams of Onondaga (renominated).
For attorney general, Edward B. O'Malley of Buffalo (renominated).
For associate judge of the court of appeals, Irving G. Vann of Syracuse (renominated).

MATRIMONIAL
A very pretty wedding took place last evening at the home of Mrs. Emma Richburg, 147 Smith street, when her daughter, Miss Harriet Mae, was united in marriage to Mr. George Preston Graham. The marriage was performed by Rev. B. A. Willmott. Mr. Graham is of Fitchburg, was best man and the maid of honor was Miss Grace Richburg, a sister of the bride. The bride was attired in white satin with lace trimmings and she wore a white bouquet and carried a shower bouquet of lilacs of the valley. The maid of honor wore satin messaline with lace trimmings and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The house was tastefully decorated with potted plants, ferns and chrysanthemums. The ceremony was performed under a floral bell and was witnessed by a large number of friends and relatives. There were friends present from Ellenville, New York, Brooklyn, Bradford, Winchester, Boston, Fitchburg and Leominster. Mr. and Mrs. Graham received numerous wedding gifts. They left on an automobile tour of the White mountains and later will visit Florida, where they will remain for the winter months. Mr. and Mrs. Graham will be at home in Leominster after April 1. Mr. Graham is engaged in the automobile business in Leominster.

ARSENAL-FORTIN
Mr. Honorius P. Arsenault and Miss Lucile Gertrude Fortin were married yesterday morning at St. Joseph's rectory, at a mass celebrated at 7 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Gustave Bernache, O. M. I. Mr. John Brennan was best man and Miss Victorine Arsenault bridemaid. During the mass, the choir of the Congregation de Notre-Dame de Lourdes sang, with Mr. Joseph A. Bernard at the organ. After the ceremony breakfast was served at the bridegroom's home, 70 Ludlum street, Mr. and Mrs.

Arsenault leaving later on a two weeks' wedding tour in Maine. On their return they will reside in Parker avenue, Braintree.

GATELY-PAULSON
Mr. George P. Gately, stamp clerk at the post office and Miss Anna P. Paulson of Bradford, Me., were united in marriage yesterday morning at the immaculate Conception church. Rev. Lawrence E. Tignor, O. M. I., performed the ceremony. Miss Christina R. Gately was bridesmaid and Mr. John A. Gately was best man. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. James Gately, 192 South street. Mr. and Mrs. Gately left on the 12.12 train for Norfolk, Va., where they will remain for three weeks. On their return they will reside at 171 Pleasant street.

McINTOSH-FARNUM
Mr. Herbert H. McIntosh and Miss Myrtle H. Farnum, both of Lowell, were married yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock by Rev. B. A. Willmott at his residence, 365 Beacon street. They were unattended. Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh will be at home to their friends at 57 Draught street, after November 1st.

MEMORIAL SERVICE
TO BE HELD BY L'ASSOCIATION CATHOLIQUE
The members of L'Association Catholique will hold memorial exercises Sunday, October 29. In the event of the weather being unfavorable the exercises will be held on the following Sunday. The local French military guards will escort the members to the cemetery and from the hall to St. Jean Baptiste church where a brief memorial service will be held.
